BRAINS A BANDIT WITH HEAVY STONE

Railway Engineer in Colorado Turns on Captor and Kills Him.

HOW A BOLD HOLD-UP WAS THWARTED

Bandit Evidently a Raw Amateur for Killing Was Easy.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 2.—In a desperate attempt to hold up west-bound Colorado Midland train No. 3 four miles west of Divide early this morning an unknown bandit was instantly killed by a rock thrown by Engineer Frank Stewart after he had shot the engineer in the leg.

It is believed the desperado who was killed had confederates secreted on the train. Members of the train crew and passengers report seeing two men run from the scene immediately after the killing. The scene of the holdup is one of the wildest in the Rocky Mountains. Two young men who were found near the scene of the holdup are held for investigation as to their complicity in the robbery.

One of them was slightly wounded in the head by a bullet.

The highwayman crawled over the tender as the train slowed up at a siding to meet an eastbound train. As he stopped the train, Stewart turned to see his fireman, Paul Bachman, standing with his hands above his head and heard the robber say: "Put up your hands or I'll blow your head off."

Forced to Leave Engine.

The robber then forced both men to leave the engine and march before him to the express car.

According to the story told by Stewart, who was brought to a hospital, the robber ordered them to tell the express messenger they were in peril of their lives; that the train had been held up and that the robber was determined to have the money in the express car.

Stewart states that the robber fired several shots at the heads of passengers who looked out to see what was happening.

"When we got to the express car," said Stewart, "my fireman dashed under the car and crawled to the other side. The robber, leaning under the car to shoot at him and when he took his eyes off me I struck him with all my strength with a rock. I had picked up as I jumped off the tender. As I did so he whirled and shot at me, the bullet striking him in the leg. I guess my blow finished him for he never moved after that. For the next I knew the conductor and express messenger and a group of excited passengers were standing about me."

Crew Arms and Goes to Rescue.

When the remainder of the train crew heard the shots they seized weapons and rushed to the head of the train firing as they came.

Stewart was given immediate medical attention by physicians who were on board the train and was brought to Colorado Springs. His condition is not serious.

Shortly after the holdup Sheriff Von Puhl and a posse scoured the country near the scene of the attempted holdup and discovered the alleged bandits hiding in the brush. One of them was dazed by a bullet wound in the head. He is out on parole from the state reformatory. The men claim they were riding the blind baggage and were beating their way to Grand Junction.

They say one of them was struck by a stray bullet from the bandit's gun. They are held for investigation.

The dead robber wore a cloth mask and a gunnysack tied about his neck. He was armed with two cheap revolvers which had evidently been unused.

THINKS COAL LANDS SHOULD BE OPEN IN ALASKA

Wickersham Comes Back in Fine Humor and Urging Development.

Cordova, Alaska, Sept. 2.—Attorney General George W. Wickersham and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Charles Nagel sailed for Seattle today on the government steamer Albatross on the last leg of a trip through Alaska that has occupied more than a month. The Albatross is due at Seattle Monday.

"We came to see a little place called Alaska but discovered an empire," said Attorney General Wickersham. "I realize more and more the importance of opening the coal lands and after we have a talk with the president he may have some recommendations that will result in straightening out the present tangle. The one great necessity of Alaska is railroad transportation as upon it depends the adequate development of Alaska's mines and agricultural lands."

"It is evident that this transportation cannot be furnished until the coal lands are opened up for cheap coal is required to operate a railroad. I am in hopes that something will be done in this matter this winter."

"YOU'RE A LIAR, I'LL SEE YOU OUTSIDE"

Amenities of the Law Game an Exhibit in Railway Rate Hearing.

ONE BELLIGERENT WANTS FINISH FIGHT

Some More Bad Temper Showed in Inquiry Now On in Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—The tense strain of the railway rate hearing developed disorder today in the midst of which Attorney E. B. Pierce, of the Rock Island, called Attorney F. B. James, representing Cincinnati shippers, a liar. Mr. Pierce added that if Mr. James was not satisfied the matter could be continued "outside." Comptroller Nay, of the Rock Island, was the witness stand undergoing cross examination by Attorney James. The latter declared that in one of the tables introduced by Nay yesterday the total freight operating revenue per mile and the total freight operating expenses had been left out, while both sets of figures appeared in a similar table.

"Why were those figures left out?" demanded Mr. James.

Witness answered that the omission was undoubtedly accidental. Attorney James expressed a contrary opinion with regard to an accident, averring that he suspected an ulterior motive.

Won't Do At All, You Know!

Mr. Pierce at this point jumped to his feet and shouted, "If that is your opinion, you are a liar."

"That won't do at all, gentlemen," interposed Examiner Brown with many raps of his gavel. Above the din Mr. Pierce cried, "We will not stand such insinuations. We are here fairly and squarely, and if the attorney is not satisfied I will meet him outside."

The storm spent itself without reference to the gavel and Mr. Nay resumed. The earnings of the Rock Island proper were greater on an average than those of the whole system, he stated.

The subsidiary lines reduced the average, he said. Attorney Thorne read from a report of the road to the interstate commerce commission. He said that the report controverted the witness; that the earnings of the system averaged more than those of the railroad proper.

Nigger in the Woodpile.

"The difference may be accounted for," explained the witness, "by the fact that my tables and those which you have are prepared by different methods."

Mr. Thorne demanded the formula by which earnings are arrived at and was interrupted by Examiner Brown, who said:

"The witness has explained that his statistics were based on a different method of bookkeeping. Do you think there is a 'nigger in the woodpile'?"

"I do," was the prompt reply.

"Then go after it," replied the examiner.

Attorney Thorne, representing the American National Live Stock association at the interstate commerce commission rate hearing, insisted today that officers of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad company be subpoenaed to testify concerning the capitalization of the company.

The demand came after Comptroller Nay, under cross examination, had said that the stock of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad company was largely, if not entirely held by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad company.

Some Heat of Discussion.

A heated discussion followed as to the relevancy of the desired testimony. Attorney E. D. Pierce, of the railway company, insisted that the capitalization of the railroad company was not germane to the hearing. Mr. Pierce said that the capital stock of the railroad company was $145,000,000 and that it was a matter of common knowledge that it owned the greater part of the stock of the railroad company.

"It does not matter," he said. "What the railroad is capitalized at. We, the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad company, are not asking for increased rates in connection with any company except the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad company; we do not know or are we concerned with the capitalization of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad company."

The controversy concluded with the statement that the shippers could subpoena officers of the railroad company and question them concerning the density of traffic on distant sections of the Rock Island line.

Includes All Labor.

Taking up the cross examination of Comptroller Nay, Attorney Thorne asked the witness if the latter's estimate of the compensation per ton mile shown in statistics introduced yesterday included mail, passenger and express labor charges as well as freight and labor compensation. Mr. Nay replied that all labor was included in the estimates. He declared that in estimating the probable operating expenses for the road for 1911 he had not taken into account any probable increase in freight revenue for the road.

He said that the figures show that there has been a decrease of $355,000 in gross freight revenues during the first seven weeks of the present fiscal year as compared with the corresponding period a year ago.

Attorney Thorne sought to show that a decrease for seven weeks was not a good indication of a yearly decrease, but Mr. Nay refused to coincide with this view. Witness stated that the interstate traffic of the Rock Island system amounts to from 50 to 55 per cent. of the total.

ONCE MORE WE HAVE IT—MISS ELKINS AND THE ABRUZZI TO WED.

DUKE OF THE ABRUZZI

Turin, Sept. 2.—It is asserted on what is regarded as excellent authority that the marriage of the Duke degli Abruzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins will take place in the beginning of next year.

Senator Elkins and his family, it is declared, will be received by King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Elena at Racconigi at the end of next month. Afterward the Duke degli Abruzzi will go to New York and formal announcement of the betrothal will be made.

St. Paul Will Outdo Self in Reception of Him.

Next Monday.

St. Paul, Sept. 2.—The official program for the entertainment of President Taft Monday of next week in connection with the national conservation congress has been completed.

President Taft is scheduled to arrive in St. Paul over the Chicago and Northwestern road at 9 a. m. Monday. Under the escort of four troops of Fort Snelling cavalry and the national guard he will be conducted to a reviewing stand near the postoffice building, where he will review the Labor day parade. After the parade he will go to the auditorium, where at 10:30 he will deliver his address to the conservation congress. At noon President Taft will have luncheon at the St. Paul hotel attended by Governor Eberhart, with President B. N. Baker, of the conservation congress, as host. The president will be driven to the state fair grounds, where, under military escort, he will proceed to the grandstand. Here he will make another address.

From the fair grounds the president will be taken to the Raddison hotel, Minneapolis, for a dinner to be tendered him by Minneapolis citizens. At 8:15 o'clock the president will board his car for the return trip to the east.

Big Labor Lockout in the English Shipyards.

Fifty Thousand Men Affected by Action of the Federated Employers.

London, Sept. 2.—Lockout notices were posted at noon today advising the members of the boilermakers' society that their services would be dispensed with after today. Fifty thousand men are directly affected.

The trouble is due to a strike yesterday of the riveters employed at the Walker shipyard at Newcastle-on-Tyne. The employees hold that this constitutes a breach of agreement between the owners and workmen and declare that those locked out will not be allowed to resume work until the boilermakers' society guarantees a fulfillment of the terms of the national agreement for the prevention of strikes and lockouts.

RECORD PRICE FOR A PENNY.

New York, Sept. 2.—Henry Chapman, a numismatist, paid $349 for a one-cent piece at an auction yesterday. The price, according to dealers, is the largest ever paid for a penny. Two hundred and seventy-five dollars is the biggest previous price which could be remembered. The coin was struck in the year 1793. It is of the "liberty cap" variety and was formerly owned by Peter Monney, the grocer-numismatist, of Cincinnati.

MISS KATHERINE ELKINS.

Miller Knew What Tools Thieves Employed.

Have Browne Set at Liberty.

Mentioned a Chisel as One of Them—Trial at Auburn.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Auburn, Ind., Sept. 2.—That Herman Miller knew a chisel had been used to break into the Faulkner saloon at Woodburn the night Marshal Columbus Croft lost his life was shown by the state through Isaac Sprunger, of Fort Wayne, in the trial in progress here.

It had been previously shown that he mentioned a sledge hammer and a rasp, but Sprunger said he told him they used "chisels" and, things, although the state contends that nobody had had an opportunity to observe just what tools had been employed to break into the saloon.

Dr. A. P. Betts, one of the chief witnesses who in the former trial showed great animosity toward the prisoner, was on the stand most of the day and his story is practically in line with what he has told three times before. He said he heard the noise made by the opening of a door on the night of the murder and thinks it was the door to Miller's shop.

He also gave some testimony relative to the finding of the cigars in the Eby barber shop and admitted that he had not been on friendly terms with Miller. He was subjected to a most searching cross-examination by Judge R. K. Ervin.

William Wearley completed his testimony late yesterday afternoon and had nothing to add to the story he has given in each of the trials. Fred Horman stated that he was in the Miller blacksmith shop three months before the murder and saw a large revolver there.

He also said Miller told him another fellow had beaten him out of his job as marshal, but that he would not live to serve out his term. He added that while he was riding on a train with Miller he asked him if he had committed the robbery at the Eby barber shop and that the prisoner did not answer him.

LEADING PHYSICIAN DIES.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 2.—Dr. W. R. Shepard, for years a leading physician of Memphis, Tenn., died here this morning of erysipelas, after a brief illness.

OIL PRICES ARE CUT.

New York, Sept. 2.—The Standard Oil company today announced a reduction of 15 points in all grades of refined petroleum.

THE WEATHER.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Indiana—Fair tonight. Saturday increasing cloudiness with probably showers in afternoon or night; moderate variable winds.

Lower Michigan—Fair tonight, Saturday increasing cloudiness with probably showers in north and west portions, moderate east winds.

Ohio—Fair tonight and Saturday; much chance in temperature, light east winds.

Illinois—Partly cloudy with probably showers late tonight or Saturday.

ROOSEVELT GUEST OF OMAHA FOLKS

Dinners and Talkfests and the Like to Wind Up With Speech.

WOULD NOT SHOW THE MISSOURIANS

So the Crowd at Station Set Up a Hurrah for President Taft.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 2.—Entering Omaha early today without any special demonstration of the people of the town, Col. Theodore Roosevelt was escorted to the Omaha club where breakfast was served to a small company. Among those who breakfasted with the colonel were Senators Burdett and Brown, of Nebraska; Senator Dolliver, of Iowa; former Representative John L. Kennedy, of Iowa; Roosevelt, republican national committeeman; Gen. A. F. Smith, in command of the department of Missouri; Postmaster B. F. Thomas, Charles H. Pickens, G. W. Wattles, C. M. Wilhelm and Luther Drake.

When the colonel's train reached St. Joseph, Mo., at 12:40 this morning these were continued calls for a speech from a large crowd of men who had gathered at the station. Col. Roosevelt being asleep did not respond to their calls. As if in retaliation the crowd began cheering for President Taft.

Putting in the Day.

It was announced that the colonel will likely not leave the Omaha club until about noon when he will go to the Omaha Field club to an informal luncheon to which 400 guests have been invited. Colonel Roosevelt will deliver his Omaha speech in the auditorium this afternoon. The colonel will then go to the Omaha club, where dinner for one hundred and fifty guests will be served.

Later in the evening he is expected to be entertained at the Den by the Ak-Sar-Ben. Colonel Roosevelt will spend the night in this city at the Omaha club and in the morning will leave for Sioux Falls.

The failure of Omaha to give the colonel a noisy reception is accounted for here by a telegram sent to the reception committee by a member of the Roosevelt party requesting that the people "go lightly" in welcoming him.

For this reason the program prepared has been revised so that the visitor will have an opportunity to get rest. The events prepared for his entertainment tonight have been curtailed so that he will be able to retire early.

Attorney Forrest Argues to Jury for the Alleged Illinois Boodler.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Attorney W. S. Forrest began argument for the defense in the trial of Lee O'Neil Browne today. "Our defense is not technical," said Mr. Forrest. "We aver that Browne did not make an agreement to buy Representative White's vote for William Lorimer and that Browne never paid any bribe to White. I ask you gentlemen to dismiss White's evidence and give it no consideration. There is no doubt that White's evidence is sufficient to convict if you believe it, but you cannot believe it."

Wants Motive Shown.

Taking up the testimony of Representatives Link and Beckmeyer, who likewise testified to receiving money after voting for Lorimer, Mr. Forrest asked the jury's careful consideration of the evidence with respect to motive.

The indictment charging perjury against George F. Gloss, a street car motorman, was returned in court today.

The special grand jury, it is reported, will be asked to vote "John Doe" in indictments against alleged jury-fixers, or would-be jury-fixers, in connection with the drawing of the venire from the present Browne jury was selected.

Indicted for Embracery.

An indictment charging embracery was voted against a man known as "Lavin." Lavin is alleged by R. J. McLaren, a former venireman, to have attempted to influence his judgment with regard to the trial of Browne. Lavin, according to McLaren, told him that in the first trial the state's attorney packed the jury against Browne. Embracery is punishable by imprisonment in the county jail for one year.

NEGRO IS FINED.

In the city court George Esther, a negro waiter, was fined $10 and costs for an assault upon a negro woman who did not testify against him. Mike O'Hearn was in bad shape from a prolonged spree and his case was continued until Monday. Irvin Gibbons, a drunken printer, was fined $1 and costs.

SHOOTS GIRL WIFE; KILLS SELF.

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 2.—After shooting and fatally wounding his sixteen-year-old wife at their home here last night, William Jones, aged 19, sent a bullet through his brain, dying almost instantly. Domestic trouble is supposed to have caused the tragedy.

CALLS BANK STATEMENTS.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The comptroller of the currency today called on the national banks for a statement of their condition at the close of business Sept. 1.

HOME FROM MICHIGAN.

Judge Edward O'Rourke and J. Ross McCulloch arrived today from a stay of some weeks in camp near Curtis, Mich., where Judge O'Rourke has spent his summers for several seasons.

ROUTED BENEATH TRACKS.

Three Lines of City Cars Through Subway During Evening Hours.

Beginning this evening at 5:30 o'clock the Belt Line, Pontiac street and East Creighton avenue street cars will run through the subway beneath the Pennsylvania and Wabash railroad tracks on Calhoun street. A similar routing of the cars will be in force each evening during the progress of track elevation service until further notice.

CHARGED WITH BABE'S DEATH.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 2.—Charged with the murder of her two-weeks-old baby, Mrs. Elena Stemple, of New Philadelphia, O., was lodged in the county jail today to await hearing before the grand jury. Mrs. Stemple confessed that her husband left her five weeks ago and that when he did not answer her letters she grew discouraged and gave the baby carbolic acid.

George J. Schott, who has been very ill at his home on Washington boulevard west for the past month, is improving rapidly. Mr. Schott's illness was due to the fact that he had overcome by heat some weeks ago.

FINE INSTITUTE'S FINAL ADDRESSES

Both Dr. Ferris and Prof. Coughlin Took Teachers by Storm.

PLEAS FOR BETTER MANNERS IN SCHOOL

Dr. Ferris Says Teachers Must Exemplify the Best to Their Pupils.

"Positively the best institute we have had here in years," is the way County Superintendent H. G. Felger expressed his sentiments in regard to the past five days of gatherings in the high school of the three hundred Allen county teachers. "Everything has been most satisfactory."

And practically every one of the teachers who have been listening to the talks of Dr. W. N. Ferris, of Big Rapids, Mich., and Prof. James M. Coughlin, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., express their feelings with the same enthusiasm.

Both Dr. Ferris and Prof. Coughlin took the teachers by storm in their talks this morning, the latter receiving such enthusiastic applause at the completion of his talk that he was forced to return and tell a story.

Wants Clean Surroundings.

Both this morning and this afternoon Dr. Ferris spoke upon "Manners and Morals," giving a plea for cleanliness both within and without school buildings. He wants the premises kept clean and attractive, for when the children are attending school they are just in the age where such things make a deep impression. Learning to become neat in their first years; they are very apt to continue so in later life. Dr. Ferris laid great emphasis upon the necessity of crushing out the practice of putting obscene pictures and verses about the buildings in a school yard. He says this can be prevented and school authorities are not doing their duty unless it is prevented.

Teachers themselves should exemplify the best in the largest sense of the word, for children yearn to have some example to follow. A teacher should never attend the school room in untidy clothes or in any way except spotlessly clean. Dr. Ferris suggests that some definite manners be laid down for the children to follow. At this point he recalled his own keen embarrassment to which he was forced to submit because of his poor early training on the farm. He said that whenever he went away from the farm he found himself severely handicapped and he should have learned the good manners while attending school.

Training the Will.

A strong plea for "Culture of the Will" was made by Prof. Coughlin in his morning address. The Pennsylvania city school superintendent was at his best, delighting his hearers with his witty remarks that often were included between his serious thoughts. Prof. Coughlin asked the teachers what they really believe. Do they have a positive conviction upon any one subject? He emphasized the importance of realizing the full meaning of such terms as moral, dutiful, ethical, faithful, excellent, good, honest, honorable, just, religious, right, righteous, true, virtuous, worthy, worth.

In contrast to the thought conveyed by these words, everybody should know the full meaning and significance of such words as bad, corrupt, criminal, dishonest, dissolute, loose, sinful, profligate, unworthy, worthless, unprincipled, vile, vicious, licentious, false, wrong, untrue.

There is a reward for a right conduct, says Prof. Coughlin, just as sure as there is a punishment for bad conduct. People should learn to esteem cleanliness, decency, courtesy, and refinement and to endeavor to fulfill the characteristics of these high words. People, also, should regard highly in-

Auto Plunges Into Interurban Car and is Completely Wrecked.

Kokomo, Ind., Sept. 2.—Mrs. C. A. Ford, aged 48, wife of a prominent manufacturer of this city, was killed and her son, Carl Ford, aged 20, was seriously hurt today when a touring car driven by the young man collided with an Indiana Union traction interurban car. The accident occurred at Taylor and Washington streets while Ford was speeding his car along the smooth pavement. The young man was unable to stop the automobile in time to avoid crashing into the car and the machine was demolished. Ford and his mother were thrown from the machine. Mrs. Ford being hurled beneath the wrecked automobile and pulled it from the injured woman's body. Her skull was crushed.

EDITORIALS COMING AS GUESTS

Republican Congressional Nominee to Entertain Newspaper Men.

Republican newspaper men of the Twelfth district outside Allen county will be the guests of Judge Owen N. Heaton, republican nominee for congress, at an informal dinner to be given this evening at 6 o'clock at the Anthony hotel.

The event, it develops, is in a measure in celebration of Judge Heaton's birthday anniversary, which occurs today. Some weeks ago a similar gathering of the district republican newspaper men was held at Lake James, at which Judge Heaton was a guest.

Among the newspaper men who are expected to be present are Messrs. O. P. Baker, of the Star, and Clyde Willis, of the Star, of the Waterloo Press; Hal Berwick, of the Standard; J. E. Buchanan, of the Dispatch; E. L. Aslar, of the New Era; W. W. Williamson, of the Columbia City Commercial; E. G. Thompson, of the Ligonier Leader; J. F. Warner, of the Garrett Press; L. H. Hixley, of the Butler Record; L. W. Teiser, of the Avilla News; J. F. Robinson, of the Kendallville Standard.

LUMBAGO FOLLOWS THE GRIP

Patient Suffered for Three Years
With Pains in the Back.

When Dr. Williams' Pink Pills
Were Tried the Pains Left Gradually and Before Long She Was Entirely Cured.

Lumbago is a form of muscular rheumatism, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which have been so successful in the treatment of various forms of rheumatism, have cured striking cases of this trouble.

Mrs. Louise Lockard, of 1035 W. Main street, Madison, Ind., who was cured by this treatment, says:

"After a severe attack of the grip I was left with lumbago and suffered with it for three years. I had sharp, shooting pains through my right side and arm and at times could not lift my arm. I was subject to these pains every winter for three years and then the pains went to my back and I could not move nor bear to have anything touch me. I became so bad that I was confined to my bed a great deal and was almost helpless for two weeks. My stomach was also in bad condition and I was very nervous.

"I was under the care of local doctors and for a time they helped me but each attack would be worse than the one before. The doctors finally said I had lumbago and that my system was full of uric acid. Through the advice of a friend I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A few boxes helped me. The pains gradually left me and I could get around again. My stomach was better and I could sleep well without having any nervous spells. It wasn't long before I was entirely cured."

If you are interested in the remedy that cured Mrs. Lockard, write today for a copy of the new edition of our book on "Diseases of the Blood." It contains information that may save you money and suffering.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

dust, obedience, truthfulness, kindness, politeness, promptness, patience, forbearance and self-control. Every effort with the help of the will should be made to eliminate profanity, vulgarity, indecency, selfishness, idleness and indolence. The efforts should be directed towards the organization of acquired habits of conduct and tendencies to be honorable, upright and true.

During the afternoon Prof. Coughlin took up some of the unfinished strings from talks given previously and dwelt upon them.

Dr. Ferris will return to his home at Big Rapids, Mich., at 6 o'clock this evening and Prof. Coughlin will leave at 8:30 o'clock for his home, where he will conduct an institute of his own next week. Dr. Ferris was in Decatur Thursday evening, where he delivered an address.

BOARD WILL DECIDE UPON LAKESIDE BRIDGE

Bids are to Be Opened in the Commissioners' Court.

In the commissioners' court tomorrow the board will open bids for two bridges, including the one at Tennessee avenue to connect Lakeside and Sky Run and the other on the county line between Adams and Allen.

At the same time the board will decide whether the bridge in the city shall be of concrete or steel, as there will be bids for both and there is some objection to the concrete.

Residents of the two districts fear that a center pier will increase the danger of floods by stopping the flow of water to a certain extent. On the other hand it is contended that a concrete bridge is needed in the scheme of beautification. The board will make the decision within a few days after the receipt of bids.

for some time. The engineer and fireman say he spoke with a Swedish accent.

There was nothing on his person to identify him. His body was left at the scene of the holdup until the arrival of the coroner from Cripple Creek.

There was no unusual shipment of money in the express car, but the bandit told the fireman he intended to ride the passengers as well as the Wells-Fargo box.

GASOLINE PIPE TRAGEDY.

New York, Sept. 2.—Miss Maida Carroll, a 16-year-old girl of Middletown, N. Y., and David Bolton, of Hoboken, were drowned and five others nearly lost their lives this afternoon when a motor boat in which they were cruising on the Hackensack, sank after the gasoline tank had exploded. Boatmen on the river saved five of the party. The rescued said the owner of the boat was smoking a pipe while searching for the trouble in the machinery.

NO RACES AT READVILLE.

Readville, Mass., Sept. 2.—Because of the heavy track as a result of yesterday's hard rain, the Grand Circuit races at Readville were again postponed today.

WILL CALL OUT NO MORE TROOPS.

Columbus, O., Sept. 2.—Governor Harrison will not call out more troops for the state fair next week nor will he ask those here to patrol the streets leading to the fair grounds as requested by business men. The governor made the announcement today. He also said that he would provide no further statement to the union representatives regarding the carmen's strike here, nor will he officially ask the street car company to have the strike arbitrated. Labor leaders will meet tonight to consider the situation.

The company's lawyers have prepared papers for a suit against the carmen's union asking for an injunction to prevent picketing, to prevent coercion of employees and to stop all forms of violence.

LEVY WILL REMAIN TO HELP TRACK ELEVATION

Amount May Be Reduced
But Will Be Maintained
—City Hall.

When the tax levy is fixed for general purposes by the city council this month it is likely that something will be added for track elevation, although the figure may be cut down from ten cents, which was put on by the Hovey administration.

This amount will be used to further the scheme of separating the grades west of Calhoun street, which are not all embraced in the present plans and which will not be taken up for some time to come. The proposed opening under the tracks either at Harrison or Webster will have to be provided for along with elevation west of Broadway and the present administration thinks the levy necessary. No decision has been reached as to how much will be levied.

Contracts Are Let.

At its meeting last night the board of public works let to John F. Brooks the contracts for paving Leth street from Highland to Calhoun, and Wayne street from Nelson to the new park boulevard with tarvia macadam.

O. F. Menefee got the contracts for paving Calhoun street from Superior to Eureka avenue and Webster street from Main to Berry.

The Barber Asphalt company offered a price of $7.51 per lineal foot for paving Home avenue. Showalter and Talange bid $8.85 for Metropolitan block and the Moellering Construction company bid $7.39 per lineal foot. A preliminary order was made for asphalt.

For paving the alley between Washington and Jefferson street the Moellering Construction company bid $2.85 per lineal foot and Showalter and Talange bid $2.91 for Metropolitan block and $2.87 for cherry red block.

For paving the alley between Wayne and Washington streets the Moellering Construction company bid $2.80 per lineal foot for Metropolitan block and Showalter and Talange bid $2.91 for Metropolitan block and $2.86 for cherry red block.

New Record Is Made.

Building permits for the month of August show a total of $333,000, which is the record for one month. One permit for $125,000 was issued to the Fort Wayne Electric works, but with that deducted a gain of $208,000 is shown over the corresponding month of 1909.

DEMAND WAGE RAISE.

Toledo, O., Sept. 2.—A demand has been made upon the Toledo, St. Louis and Western (Clover Leaf) railroad company by 200 agents, clerks and stenographers for an increase in their pay of 20 per cent, the claim being made by the men that they are being paid less by 30 per cent than men in the same positions upon other roads.

EVIDENCES OF FOUL PLAY.

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 2.—The body of a well dressed man was found before daylight this morning under the Ohio river bridge. The man's body showed over sixty knife wounds. He had been dead for hours. An Episcopal hymn book was found near the body.

LAFONTAINE HOTEL BURNS.

Lafontaine, Ind., Sept. 2.—The only hotel in the town, a three story frame structure of forty rooms, was destroyed by fire last night. The hotel was owned by John A. Shuster. Loss, $7,000; insurance, $2,000.

Arthur Smith has returned from a business trip of several weeks to New York.

OYSTER BAY SHOWS GOOD GROWTH IN THE DECADE

Town That Roosevelt Has Made Famous Really is Growing.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Oyster Bay, N. Y., the home of ex-President Roosevelt, had a population of 21,802 as against 16,334 in 1900, an increase of 3,468. These figures include Sea Cliff village, which adjoins Oyster Bay.

Nassau county, in which Oyster Bay is located, has a population of 53,930, as against 55,448 in 1900.

Figures also issued by the census bureau today show that Suffolk county, Long Island, N. Y., has a population of 36,138 against 17,383 in 1900.

The population of Rochester, N. Y., is 218,814, an increase of 55,341 or 34.2 per cent, as compared with 162,608 in 1900.

The population of Auburn, N. Y., is 34,668, an increase of 4,225 or 14.2 per cent as compared with 30,345 in 1900.

The population of Rockford, Ill., is 45,401, an increase of 14,350 or 46.2 per cent as compared with 31,051 in 1900.

Greater New York has a population of 4,766,882. This figure is the one given by the official count of the returns of the thirteenth census. Of this population 1,634,351 persons live in Brooklyn.

The census figures, as announced last night by Director Durand, place New York as the second largest city in the world. It is as large as any two foreign cities, excepting London.

New York had a population of 4,437,202 in 1900 and 2,507,414 in 1890.

The increase from 1900 to 1910, therefore is 1,229,681, or 38.7 per cent, as compared with an increase for the preceding decade of 929,788, or 37.1 per cent.

The city now contains more persons than did the whole of the United States in 1790, the time of the first census taking. Then the population of the country was 3,929,214. The population of the United States in 1800, at the second census, was 3,908,483.

NEW YORK CAUTIOUS ABOUT VESSELS FROM EUROPE

Fear of Cholera Causes a Stringent Course at Quarantine.

New York, Sept. 2.—Because of a case of serious illness on the liner Lusitania from Liverpool, and a death on the steamer San Gnapen during her voyage here from Naples and Palermo, both steamers were detained at quarantine on their arrival last night, and this morning the vessels were held for several hours while thorough examinations by the health officers were being completed. The examination of the Lusitania was completed first. It convinced the authorities that there was no danger of cholera infection from the vessel and her release was ordered shortly afterward.

Extraordinary Precautions.

Extraordinary precautions against infection have been taken by the health officials of the port since the appearance of cholera on the European continent. Bacteriological examinations were deemed necessary on both vessels.

The investigation in the case of San

Mrs. John A. Coy, of Saginaw, Mich., who has been spending the past month with friends in this city, was the guest for whom Mrs. F. N. Palmer entertained the members of the Semper Felix club yesterday. The ladies spent the afternoon visiting with each other over their needlework and at half-past 6 o'clock their husbands came for dinner. The table was especially attractive with hand-embroidered linen and other appointments, including tiny tapers tied with haws of tulle and flowers. Covers were laid for eleven.

Miss Flora Heller, of Washington boulevard west, is in Pittsburg, visiting friends.

A number of young ladies enjoyed a very pleasant time last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Dougherty, of 1406 Fairfield avenue, a bride and groom of August. The guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty with a shower of gifts and there was music, games and refreshments to further pass the time. Miss Young presided at the piano. The gifts presented were various useful and beautiful things for the new home. Those who took part in the affair were Miss Mary and Miss Rose Zuber, Miss Flora and Miss Esther Walda, Miss Minnie Ruyep, Miss Alice O'Rourke, Miss Alice McCarthy, Miss May Barry and Miss Helen Young.

Mrs. George Dushman, Mrs. L. H. Burnheimer, Mrs. Robert Castia, Earl Dushman, Alfred Schnorr, Norine Burnheimer are going to Rome City on Sunday to spend ten days. They will occupy Oak Grove cottage.

Mrs. John A. Coy, of Saginaw, Mich., who has been the guest of friends here for the past six weeks, will leave tomorrow for visits in Toledo and Detroit before she returns to her home.

Miss Helen Margee, of Buffalo, N. Y., who had been visiting her cousins, Misses Mary and Borgia Lowry, has returned home.

FOR PURE SODA WATER. Chicago, Sept. 2.—Chicago's fight for pure soda water was won today when a petition for an injunction against the health department was withdrawn in the superior court. The city charged that the carbonated soda sold by 125 different firms contained lead, and ordered the elimination of the mineral. When the case came up today it was announced that the soda water interests had agreed out of court to conform to the new regulations.

BANKRUPTCY HEARINGS. Sol A. Wood, referee in bankruptcy, has fixed September 12 as the date for hearing on the trustee's petition to sell real estate and machinery of the bankrupt estate of Lee S. Kapp, of Bluffton. The property is a washing machinery factory.

C. Crozier, a well-known farmer near Sheldon, has gone to Mackinac Island.

Richmond Country Club to Be Entertained Here on Labor Day. Members of the Richmond Country club are to be guests of the Fort Wayne Golf club on Labor day and in addition to a contest on the Kekionga golf course will be entertained at dinner at the clubhouse afterwards. All ladies, members of the golf club, who wish to attend are requested to notify Mrs. Schumaker, the club caterer. The Richmond men are good players and have had several tournaments on the local links, so interest in the coming visit interests the entire golf club.

CHILDREN'S CARNIVAL IN JUNE. Special Day at Robison Park Will Be a Happy Proves Idea of setting apart one day each summer especially for a children's carnival that Manager C. H. Williams announces it will become an annual affair. But because of the few hours of daylight so late in the summer as the carnival of Wednesday, a change to some Saturday in June will be set for next year. A number of requests have been received by Manager Williams asking that a Saturday be chosen as the day to give the fathers an opportunity to participate in the pleasure of seeing the children.

BLIND MUSICIAN HERE. Jesse King Murdock, of Somerset, O., is a guest at the Bates hotel. He is one of the most brilliant blind musicians in the country, and is in the city to consult a local specialist. For six years Mr. Murdock attended the Ohio institution for the blind at Columbus, and was graduated there, completing his musical education at the Chelton conservatory of music. He has about sixty-five pupils, and directs a band and an orchestra. Though totally blind, Mr. Murdock is an active, energetic young man who takes a keen interest in life. He is a cousin of Rev. A. K. Zortman, of this city.

KEKIONGA GOLFERS AS HOSTS. Richmond Country Club to Be Entertained Here on Labor Day. Members of the Richmond Country club are to be guests of the Fort Wayne Golf club on Labor day and in addition to a contest on the Kekionga golf course will be entertained at dinner at the clubhouse afterwards. All ladies, members of the golf club, who wish to attend are requested to notify Mrs. Schumaker, the club caterer. The Richmond men are good players and have had several tournaments on the local links, so interest in the coming visit interests the entire golf club.

A CONTRAST OF TYPES.

It is interesting to compare two eminent men who recently have been brought into very striking juxtaposition. Speaking Wednesday night at a large audience at Guthrie, Okla., James Schoolcraft Sherman, vice president of the United States, archbishop of the standpoint and a regular of regulars, had this to say:

"This is no time for quarrels in the party; it is no time for a division of feeling on this point or that. It is the time for republicans to stand shoulder to shoulder against the common enemy."

Now against this weigh some words taken from the amazing speech Theodore Roosevelt delivered to a big crowd at Oswatimie, Kas., on the same day and pretty nearly the same hour:

"I stand for the square deal, and when I say that I am for the square deal, I mean not merely that I stand for fair play under the present rules of the game, but that I stand for having those rules changed so as to work for a more substantial equality of opportunity and of reward for equally good service."

This means that our government national and state, must be freed from the sinister interference, or control, of special interests. We must drive the special interest out of politics."

Every special interest is entitled to justice, full, fair and complete, but not one is entitled to a vote in congress, a voice on the bench or representation in any public office. The Constitution guarantees protection to property and we must make that promise good. But it does not give the suffrage to any corporation."

There is the standpoint and reactionary for you if you like him and there is the militant progressive for you if you prefer him. Does Mr.
Sherman fancy such craft is going to catch any one of sense this year? It is the same old poppycock, tommyrot and fool-twaddle that we have been hearing for generations. Nothing to counsel, nothing to propose, nowhere to lead to. "Shoulder to shoulder against the common enemy?" Yes, indeed, Mr. Vice President Sherman, there will be some shouldering to and that enemy is not the democratic party. The "interests" whom you represent and by whom you and those like you are controlled have become an uncommonly common enemy. Colonel Roosevelt, Colonel Bryan, Senator La-Follette, Senator Brewster, Senator Del-liver, Senator Cummins, Victor Murdock and a large majority of the democratic senators and representatives have the "common enemy" pretty thoroughly identified.

As a contrast of a crawfish mind with one of tremendous forward impulses, as a comparison of a statesmanship that is decayed and of a day that is done with a statesmanship whose light is of the dawn these brief excerpts from contemporaneous speeches by representatives of the same political party are striking and impressive.

WHAT'S THE ANSWER.

It is time for the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company to come forward and show cause why it should not forthwith remove the obstructions it has placed in the west side of Calhoun street, from Williams to DeWald streets.

For more than two weeks that section of Calhoun street has been out of commission by heaps of bricks and concrete thrown from between the rails of the west side track at intervals of a rail's length. Evidently it was the purpose when this rubbish was erected into barricades along the street to effect some repairs to the track. For many days now the street has lain in that impassable condition to the great annoyance, inconvenience and material detriment of business along that part of the thoroughfare and to the general obstruction of traffic. For two weeks there has been nothing done and there is not yet a sign of anything doing.

What does the traction company mean by such a gratuitous and wanton outrage? What does the city administration mean by tolerating it?

Just know that solo roar from Osawatimie would provoke a tremendous concert of them from the east, but it is exceeding fondest expectations.
Rather suspect that when the colonel gets back to Gotham he will find a constable armed with a commitment and a straight jacket ready to rustle him to the padded cell. Some of them in the Wall street region actually believe the man is violently insane. It's more comfortable for them to think that than what he actually would do if he got a chance. Might get it, you know.

That man Estrada seems to be getting a good start as president of Nicaragua and perhaps it is in him to give his unhappy country a longer and sweeter taste of peace than it has known for a good while. If Nicaraguans are not tired of turmoil, bloodshed, complete national prostration and the million woes of war, then let them go to it right and wipe themselves out of existence. Surely human beings cannot become so steeped in barbarism as to like it all of the time.

After repeated reading of the platform of the Eighth district republicans we are able to pronounce it an absolutely innocuous document. They were mighty pert workmen with their pens who drafted that immortal declaration of the standpoint and insurgent.

The colonel sure is giving 'em what they like out there where he's gone to 'em, and they're appetites have been whetted for a big feed.

STEAMSHIP ON THE ROCKS.

Pacific Coast Vessel Hits Reefs, But
All Safely Taken Off.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 2.—The Alaska
Pacific Steamship company's 1,800 ton steel steamship Watson went aground on the reef of Waadach Island, near Nootka bay, shortly after 11 o'clock last night and now lies in a dangerous position on the rocks. All of the ninety-two passengers aboard the vessel, which was bound from Seattle for San Francisco and Los Angeles, were taken ashore in the small boats unharmed. The passengers are safely camped on the rugged little island awaiting the arrival of rescuers who are hurrying toward them.

As soon as the vessel struck Captain Griffin ordered out the life boats and in a short time the sailors were taking the passengers ashore. That Captain Griffin believes his craft is in no great danger and that he landed his passengers only to be on the safe side, is indicated by a wireless report received from the Watson early this morning, saying that an effort would be made to float the vessel at high tide. The Watson's sister ship, Buckman, in-bound from San Francisco, has been instructed to give her aid.

MRS. FISKE NEXT WEDNESDAY.

Seat Sale for "Becky Sharp" Performance Begins Tomorrow.

The sale of seats for the engagement next Wednesday night of Mrs. Fiske and her Manhattan company in
"Becky Sharp" will begin at the Majestic box office tomorrow morning at the usual hour.

Mrs. Fiske is now entering upon her second consecutive western tour which entails a continuous season of practically twenty-four months, the only time not actually devoted to playing, having been given over to the rehearsals of "Pillars of Society" and "Hannolo," prior to her production of these plays in New York in March last.

Only a woman of the most indomitable energy could and would undertake such a strenuous term of service, and Mrs. Fiske's cheerful and successful undertaking of it is the strongest possible refutation of the charge so often brought of indulgence in art.

"Between Love and Duty," Tonight.
Believing in the maxim that variety is the spice of life, Miss Boyer and her clever company have decided to offer the Majestic patrons something entirely away from any one of their previous efforts, and in consequence,
"Between Love and Duty," a thrilling war play, will be the production scheduled for tonight.

The play is written in and around certain historical events during the period of the civil war, 1861-65, and tells the story of the love between a southern heiress and a northern spy.
Some most intense dramatic scenes are revealed in the play of "Between Love and Duty," one especially dramatic being the climax of the third act, in which Polly Primrose (Miss Boyer), saves her lover from being

Big Labor Day Attraction.

The production of "My Wife's Family," which will be seen at the Majestic Monday matinee and night is just the kind of an attraction to attend if you want to be divorced from dull care and worry, and to spend an evening in laughter and enjoyment. Everything goes with dash and sparkle. The comedy abounds with clever specialties. New music and specialty features have been specially written and arranged by the authors, Messrs. Hal Stephens and Harry Linton, for this season. The cast of players, which is an excellent one, includes Myrtle Bigden, Mary Olin, John Myle and Giles W. Harrington. The scenery and effects are all new and the costumes are beautiful. Everywhere that "My Wife's Family" has been presented it has been accorded the unstinted praise of both the press and theatergoing public, and that it will be received with enthusiastic acclaim here is unquestioned, for the good reports which have preceded it will bear results and a full house is assured.

THE TEMPLE THEATER.

Vaudeville House Opens Monday With an All Star Bill.

On Monday matinee starts the sixth season of vaudeville at the Temple and the opening bill certainly is going to be a dandy. Reading the list of star acts is Happy Jack, Gardner and company in a one-act playlet, entitled

"A Close Call." The act is one of the funniest ever written and Mr. Gardner and company have created a sensation wherever they have appeared.
The Temple management is certainly to be congratulated on securing such an excellent attraction.

The remaining acts on the bill are all high-class and any of them strong enough to hold a headline position.
McNish and McNish, those two jolly fellows, will delight in their hodge podge of nonsense, entitled "Bonehead Follies."

Ed Jordan and company will present their roving farce, "Tom Katz Night Out." The act scored an immense hit in New York this summer.

Fielding and Carlos, who are the world's champion roller skaters, have one of the most novel acts on the vaudeville stage. They will be prime favorites.

Houston and Kirby will appear in their new and up-to-date singing and dancing turn. Miss Houston will appear in some stunning new Paris gowns.

Adair and Dahn, novelty wire artists, are said to have the most novel act in the business.

Louis Granat, "the whistling virtuso," and the motion pictures, showing two good comedy films, completes the great opening bill.

A few odd or mismatched young men's suits that sold at $10 to $22 will go at $3.75 until Saturday night.

THE SHOP AND RAIL NEWS

G. W. HILL TO HIGHER PLACE

To Pittsburg Division as Signal Supervisor of Pennsy.

CHARLES HERRON SUCCEEDS MR. HILL

New Signal Man Comes from Logansport—Shop and Rail.

September 15 George W. Hill, who has been signal supervisor of the Western division of the Pennsylvania system for eleven years, will assume a similar position on the Pittsburg division of the Southwest System, which is considered quite a promotion for him and is accompanied by a nice increase in salary. Mr. Hill will be succeeded here by Charles Herron, signal supervisor of the Logansport division of the Panhandle, a change which is also a nice promotion for the man affected by it.

Mr. Hill has been employed by the Pennsylvania ever since 1884, when he took a position in the carpenter department, with headquarters in Pittsburg. December 1, 1893, he became signal supervisor of the Chicago division of the Panhandle and August 15, 1899, he was transferred in a similar capacity to Fort Wayne.

Mr. Herron has also been in the employ of the company a number of years, beginning on the Panhandle. He came to Fort Wayne eleven years ago and for six years was employed as a gang foreman in the signal department. In 1905 he was appointed to the position at Logansport, which he will soon vacate to take the better one in this city.

Mr. Hill will take a two weeks' vacation and with his family will go to Camp Lake tomorrow to stay a few days and will then go to his old home, Youngstown, O., to visit friends a few days. He will return Monday, September 12, to get matters in shape for the transfer of location.

WHEAT SPECIAL HERE.

Train and Lecturers Spend the Night in City.

The Pennsylvania Wheat special train with its corps of lecturers made its third visit to Fort Wayne last night, coming in at 3:30 o'clock over the G. R. & I. road yesterday afternoon and leaving over the same line for Hove and Kendallville at 7:30 this morning. At Kendallville the train was turned over to the Lake Shore road and taken to South Bend. The party started upon the educational trip August 22 and will complete the tour next Thursday. The train started at Fountain City yesterday morning and stopped at all stations en route to Fort Wayne. Over 1,200 people visited the car and heard the lectures, most of the people being men. Prof. G. I. Christie, who has charge of the train, says that on previous trips the greater portion of the audiences were women, attracted more by curiosity than by a desire to learn something. The train is in charge of Professor G. I. Christie, superintendent of agricultural extension and the lecturers are Professor M. L. Fisher, associate in agronomy; S. D. Connor, associate in soil improvement; J. P.

RAILWAY MAGNATES INSPECTING PENNSYLVANIA'S NEW STATION

THEODORE P. SHONTS, RALPH PETERS, GEORGE GIBBS, AUGUST BELMONT

The new Pennsylvania railroad station in West Thirty-third street road were on hand, headed by August Belmont, New York City, which was through the tunnel, under the East Belmont. Theodore Shonts, Ralph Peters, and August Belmont, all of the directors of the Longmonster new tunnel and terminal, the time. A train was run from the sta-Island railroad and Pennsylvania rail-largest in the world.

Frigo, president Indiana Corn Growers' association, Daleville, Ind.; S. W. Taylor, Booneville, Ind.; D. B. Johnson, Mooreland, Ind.; E. C. Martindale, Wilkinson, Ind.; W. M. Vaughan, assistant in agricultural extension; V. C. Plummer and G. M. Frier, assistants in agricultural extension.

WILL TEST MOTOR.

Motor Company Will Demonstrate Qualities of Machine.

G. W. Bowersox, of the recently organized Fort Wayne Auto Motor company, is preparing to demonstrate the excellence of his invention by a practical test of 4,000 miles over the worst conditioned roads in Indiana, Ohio and Michigan and for this purpose is having a specially designed chassis constructed. Mr. Bowersox expects by this test to prove the efficacy of his invention and encourage the men with him to go ahead with the manufacture of the motors upon a larger scale than at present. He wants more men and better factory facilities. The company has now completed three of the motors and Mr. Bowersox believes they are perfect.

TRAIN WRECKERS AT WORK.
Place Obstruction on the Nickel Plate Tracks.

Hammond, Ind., Sept. 2.—Nickel Plate officials are baffled in an attempt to solve the mystery of our attempt train wrecking within 10 days between Hammond and Ellettsburg. At different points old rails and ties have been fastened across the tracks in daylight, rails loosened and spikes withdrawn. The Chicago-New York flyer crew found rail bands loosened and switch-derail inserted at a switch point to ditch the train.

BLACKSMITH LOSES EYE.
James Conroy the Victim of Distressing Accident.

While at work at his trade in the Wabash blacksmith shop at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon James Conroy met with an accident which resulted in the loss of one of his eyes. A piece of steel struck and lodged in the optic, destroying the sight. The injured man was hastened to Decatur, Ill., where he is now under the care of the company's oculist. Mr. Conroy has been employed in the Wabash blacksmith shop for over thirty years and is one of the best known men in that shop.

E. T. TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

All of the preliminary arrangements for a tennis tournament under the auspices of the Electro-Technic club, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, have been arranged. Tomorrow the first game between six of the best players will be played to decide which of the three men shall remain to play the others in the contests. In tomorrow's games the participants will be Yapp and Roberts, Cooper and Griffith and J. B. Mills and Morrison. The other players who will contest for the championship are Lennart, Gawehn, Durree, Wagner, Nussbaum, Ballies, Carter, Hadley, Morganthal, Hazzleton, Hunter, Dehan and V. E. Mills. The series of games will take place on Saturday afternoons and great interest attaches to them, not only among the employees of the Fort Wayne Electric works, but in tennis circles generally about the city.

MR. GRAFTON GOES NORTH.

William McC. Grafton, general superintendent of the signal department of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg, spent several hours in the city this morning. With Mrs. Grafton and some friends he was en route to the lakes in Michigan for a little outing. The party came in in Mr. Grafton's private car on Pennsylvania train No. 15 and left for the north on Grand Rapids train No. 7 at 9:30. The train was nearly an hour late.

CONCERT AT SPENCER PARK.

The manager of the Electro-Technic band is in receipt of news to the effect that the rural mail carriers will have a big meeting and picnic at Spencer Park, in Logansport, next Sunday and the band is requested to arrange matters so they can commence the afternoon concert at 4:30 o'clock instead of the usual hour.

This request is made in order that the rural mail carriers can finish their business session in time to enjoy all of the fun of the program. This will be the last appearance at Logansport of the Electro-Technic band under the present contract with the Traction company and Sunday and Labor day at Robison park will complete all contracts with the Traction company.

WILL PLAY AT BOWSERS.

Manager Haushach, of the Wabash team, announces today that the game of ball tomorrow afternoon between the Wabash and the Rolling Mills shop league teams will positively be at the Bowersox diamond. It was given out day or two ago that the game would be at Lawton park, but the two clubs prefer the Bowersox grounds and will play there.

W. C. SCHWARTZ HERE.

William C. Schwartz, foreman of the blacksmith shop of the Pennsylvania in Crestline, is here to spend a few days with relatives and friends. He called at the Pennsylvania shops this morning to see the men with whom he was associated in shop work a number of years. Mr. Schwartz left this city a year ago, when he was promoted to his present office.

TAKES JOB ON ROAD.

F. O. Snell, for some time the crane director in the Pennsylvania erecting shop, has taken a position as foreman on the road. He has been succeeded as crane director by S. Van Horn, who held another position in the shop for some months.

HEARS OF BROTHER'S DEATH.

D. O. Nelson, a painter at the Wabash shops, was advised last night of the death of his brother in Cincinnati. He left immediately for that city and will remain there until after the funeral.

BOYLE TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.

Daniel Boyle, the G. R. & I. brakeman who was injured by falling from a car at Berne, Ind., yesterday, was brought to the city at 6:30 o'clock last night and taken to St. Joseph hospital. He alighted on his head and back when he fell and his injuries are a sprained back and some bad contusions on the head.

ELECTRIC PAYDAY.

The employees of the Fort Wayne Electric works will receive their semi-monthly earnings tomorrow. The 5th is the payday, but this time that date falls upon a holiday and so the employees are to be paid two days ahead of time.

NO BUSINESS MONDAY.

As usual there will be little doing at the freight houses in the city on Labor day. The Wabash has already posted notices that business will be entirely suspended at noon Monday and that all local freight trains will be annulled for the day. Similar action is expected by other railroads.

FIREMAN HAS FOOT HURT.

J. F. Heidrich, a stationary fireman at the Pennsylvania power plant, is temporarily out of commission. Yesterday a big chunk of coal rolled off a car he was unloading and struck and badly bruised one of his feet.

GOES TO ORGAN FACTORY.

G. F. Sarazen, a tinner, has resigned his position in the Pennsylvania shops, after a service there of five years. He will take employment in the Packard Piano and Organ works next Monday.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Leo Schlitz has taken employment as a finisher in the laboratory at the Electric works.

N. Bucher, of the laboratory at the Electric works, will go to Lake James tomorrow to stay a few days.

N. H. Byrill, who had his eyes burned several days ago, has resumed his duties in the Pennsylvania power plant.

M. H. Ehrman, of the Pennsylvania smith shop, is sick. Nicholas Miller, of the car machine shop, is also on the sick list.

Jesse L. Ebersole, William M. Meyers and Tony Varanda took employment at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

George C. Dierstein, of the upholstery department of the Pennsylvania shops, will visit friends in Chicago over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Claudy have gone to Frankfort, Ind., for a visit with friends. He is a blacksmith in the Pennsylvania shops.

F. G. Slane, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, and his son went to Chicago this morning to spend Sunday and Labor day with friends.

Miss Minnie Emme, daughter of Cab Builder William Emme, of the Pennsylvania shops, will be the guest of friends in Chicago all of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mansdoerfer left this morning for Pittsburg, where they will visit friends a few days. He is employed in the Pennsylvania copper shop.

Tomorrow will end the service of E. P. McGrath as helper in the Pennsylvania erecting shop. He is a Purdue student and quits the shop to prepare for the resumption of his studies at the university.

Charles Sodian, bookkeeper for S. W. Newell, was operated upon for appendicitis at St. Joseph hospital by Dr. R. J. McOscar last night. His condition is serious, but it is believed he will recover.

This evening John Manning, of Fall River, Mass., will arrive in the city for a visit with blacksmith Andy Ryan and other relatives. Mr. Manning is a foreman in a large cotton mill at Fall River.

E. Feaser and wife will visit over Sunday in Ada, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Lammatsch will spend Sunday in Chicago. The gentlemen are employed in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop.

Raymond Hoffman, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, will be the guest of Robert Quinn, also of the works, and his parents at Newport, Ky., Sunday and Monday. Mr. Quinn went there several days ago.

Miss Dore Kellither has returned to Chicago after a week's visit with her brother and sister, Michael Kellither, of the Pennsylvania round house, and Miss Ella Kellither, operator in the Pennsylvania telephone exchange.

A week's experience as a boiler-maker's helper in the Pennsylvania shops has convinced David German that the farm is the better place for him and he resigned this morning and will return to his old home near Paulding, Ohio.

Toledo papers say the Pennsylvania company is going to expend several hundred thousand dollars in improvements in that city the next twelve months. The alleged improvements include the separation of the grades at some of the streets and the erection of a big iron bridge.

The 115 engineers in the employ of the Ann Arbor railroad will receive a handsome increase in wages, dating from September 1. This agreement is the result of a conference Thursday between the officials and representatives of the engineers. The amount of the increase has not been made public.

LIBEL TRIAL IN GERMAN COURT.

Editor Trying to Prove What He Said of Oil Magnate True.

Hamburg, Sept. 2.—The trial of F. Hildebrandt, financial editor of the Hamburg Fremdenblatt, on a charge of libel brought by Dr. F. A. Rupprecht, director of the German Petroleum Oil company, opened today. Hildebrandt intimated that Rupprecht was guilty of bribery and also that his company had juggled its books and so reduced its taxes.

Following the publication of these accusations, Rupprecht challenged the editor to a duel but the latter refused to fight both on legal grounds and, as he declared, for the sake of truth as he desired that the truth or falsity of his charges be determined in an open court of law.

IN THE CHURCHES

IT IS AS MUCH OUR DUTY
TO KNOW AS TO PRAY
SAYS PRELATE

Bishop Anderson's Sermon Concludes Celebration of Methodist Day.

Handicapped by the inclement weather, the attendance at Robison park yesterday of those celebrating the seventh annual Methodist day was only a small part of the number expected as preparations had been made to entertain large delegations from the surrounding cities and towns. The address of Bishop William F. Anderson, of Chattanooga, in the first M. E. church in the evening, concluding the celebration, drew out many more people, however.

Bishop Anderson made his evening address upon "Life's Conquest," and the speaker forcibly emphasized to his hearers what a veritable conquest life may be made. Speaking of the intellectual life, Bishop Anderson said that God gave men minds to use, and much of their use should be for God's work. He pointed out that the word "knowledge" appears in the Bible a great many times, showing the importance and value of knowledge even in the old times. "It is as much a duty to know as it is to pray," said Bishop Anderson. "The progress of the world is a pathway for knowledge."

One of the greatest conquests of life is that of fear, asserted Bishop Anderson. In former days, men used to be afraid of their own shadows because they had no knowledge of certain physical laws. As the people came to know more, they also came to fear less. Bishop Anderson said that a strain of the life of the lower animal still shows itself in the human being, whenever that person feels that he would like to tear even the trees from the ground. And sometime in life, said the speaker, everybody has that feeling.

Literature, Bishop Anderson characterized as one of the most influential forces in developing character. In reading literature, a man learns to taste with more relish the joys and blessings of life, and if he does not taste the blessings, his life has been useless. Literature teaches a man to love to struggle. The leading job is a killing job, for then the man is not built up with the inspirations that accrue from victories in struggles. There must first be the struggle before the flight.

CORNE—ONE NEXT TUESDAY.

Simpson M. E. Church to Held Exercises on Site of New Edifice.

The laying of the cornerstone for the new Simpson M. E. church on the southeast corner of Sutherland and South Harrison streets will take place next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Bishop W. F. McDowell, of Chicago, present to deliver the address. An extensive program is being arranged for the occasion by the pastor, Rev. W. A. Giest, and this will be made public later.

Rev. William G. Giest, pastor of Simpson Methodist Episcopal church, will make an address tomorrow at the union picnic of Sunday schools near Leo.

There will be no services on Sunday

ONLY ONE WEEK NOW REMAINS OF THE VACATION

Public City and County Schools Begin Fall
Terms Sept. 12.

The death knell of the summer vacation for public city and county school children rapidly approaches. One week from Labor day, on September 12, the public schools will begin their fall terms.

Refreshed by the long vacation there will probably be a good many youngsters glad to see the school doors thrown open to them again. But there are always those whose feet become heavy whenever the school building comes into view. However, there is the novelty of the first few days for even these children.

The public schools of the city have all undergone more or less extensive repairs during the summer months. The biggest of the improvements are those upon the Hamilton school, where a complete new heating and ventilating system has been installed and upon the high school where the auditorium has been handsomely decorated. The high school auditorium had presented nothing but bare dirty white walls ever since it was erected until within a few weeks ago, and the change is notable.

The basement of every school building in the city has been whitewashed, giving a neat white aspect. A number of the usual minor improvements and changes have been made in all the buildings.

New Buildings Not Completed.

The new James D. Smart and West Washington schools are not ready for occupancy this fall. The Hutton district pupils will have classes in the old building and the six upper grades of the West Washington school will meet in the old high school building on East Wayne street. The two lower grades, including the kindergarten, will meet in the Jefferson school building.

TURNED DOWN KNOX PLAN.

Interparliamentary Union Avoids Direct Action on His Proposition.

Brussels, Sept. 2.—The interparliamentary union for the promotion of international arbitration, whose conference closed yesterday, avoided direct action upon Secretary Knox's proposition to confer the powers of arbitral justice upon the international prize court because the convention creating the latter on Oct. 18, 1907, has not yet been ratified. Instead, the conference unanimously adopted a resolution which while "rendering homage to the sentiments which inspired the American proposition," simply urged the powers to rally permanently the force of international opinion in any question concerning the organization of a permanent court of arbitral justice."

A number of young ladies, all close friends of Miss Myra Smith, were guests at a bridge party given by Mrs. Will Pettit, this afternoon, at her home in West Berry street, in honor of Miss Smith. When the guests were seated at the card tables and picked up the unusually dainty and artistic score cards, they discovered the announcement of the wedding day of Miss Smith and John Herbert Vesey to be September 21. The announcement occasioned no particular surprise, as Miss Smith's nearest friends have known of the engagement for some time. Mrs. Pettit had her home beautifully decorated with goldenrod and iron weed and the yellow and purple furnished a most effective bit of color. The score cards were bell shaped and tinted in water colors with a monogram of S and V on one side and the names of Miss Smith and Mr. Vesey on the other. The bride-elect is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Smith, of East Wayne street, and is in every way interesting and attractive. Mr. Vesey is the youngest son of Mrs. Sarah Vesey, is in the real estate business and is a very successful business man.

Mrs. B. J. Geiswold has returned from a visit in Jackson, Mich.

Miss Mabel Newton, of St. Louis, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. James Wilding.

Mrs. Sam Selig, of Ligonier, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. Lowenstein, of the White apartments.

Mrs. A. E. Barnes and children, who have been at Clear Lake for an outing, will return home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Keegan and children have returned from Winona Lake, where they spent several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ellenwood and daughter, Mrs. J. M. Oswald, have returned from a visit in Flint, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stuart, of Coffeyville, Kan., are guests of Mrs. Isabelle Dittenderfer, of West DeWald street.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Day, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joe Melker, of John street, have returned to their home in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Charles B. Fitch will return home tomorrow on a visit of some weeks in New York city, Brooklyn and other eastern points.

Miss Emily Wright Hood and her father have returned from an outing at Mackinac Island. Miss Minnie Hood is still at the resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, of Conneaut, O., who were visiting their daughter, Mrs. Harry Nye Williams, at the Portland, returned home this afternoon.

Miss Marguerite Stutz, of Washington, D. C., who was the guest of Miss Emma Rodenbeck for two days, has gone to Lansing, Mich., for a visit.

Miss Norah Klotz, of East DeWald street, has returned home after three weeks' visits in Cincinnati, O., and Dayton, Ky. Miss Rose Beck, of Dayton, accompanied Miss Klotz home and will be her guest for some days.

Miss Eleanor and Miss Mary C. Smeltzer, of 338 Washington boulevard east, returned this morning from a two months' tour of Europe. The young ladies went to Montreal, Canada, to sail to Glasgow, Scotland. During their absence they visited many points in the British Isles, Bavaria, Germany, France and Italy and returned via New York.

Mrs. William Yergens, of 324 Washington boulevard west, entertained a company of ladies at progressive pedro yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. I. Jockel, of Chicago, and Mrs. A. L. Hadden, of Terre Haute. Prizes were presented the two visiting guests and to Mrs. Strassburg and Mrs. Luntz for honors in the game. Others who enjoyed the pleasant time were Mesdames W. Lindenberg, Robert Koerber, K. Spiegel, C. Strassburg, W. Klett, H. Meyers, F. Vollmer, W. Vollmer, Mrs. Luntz and Miss Maude Kayser.

The members of the Arbor Vitae club formed a picnic party at Robinson park last evening in honor of Miss Fees of Uxio, O., who is visiting Miss Ida Fleckenbrink. The club invited a number of young ladies to the picnic.

Miss Adella Roebel, of 2314 Euclid avenue, entertained the members of the Good Cheer bible class of the U. B. church and their friends on Wednesday evening at a pickaninny party. Games enlivened the evening and contributed to the pleasure of the company. Souvenirs of "pickaninny" dolls were given by the hostess and refreshments were served.

Mrs. A. E. Krouse, of Smith street, entertained a company of ladies on Wednesday afternoon at cards. The rooms were tastefully decorated with flowers and a fine supper was served after the game. Mrs. John Hoffman, Mrs. Louis Palmer and Mrs. L. Fro-muth won the prizes. Mrs. Della Krouse assisted the hostess in serving the supper. The guests were Mesdames Hoffman, Fro-muth, Louis Palmer, Albert Ringle, John Oswald, John Steinbach, Joe Krouse, William Palmer, Hofzaur, John Oswald, Jr., John Roth, Henry Harkensider, E. Boedeker, Mrs. Becker, and from out of town, Mrs. Ira Palmer, Mrs. Herman Krouse and Misses Anna and Cecilia Krouse, of Sheldon, and Mrs. Joe Krouse, of Osslin.

Robbins—Blust.

A quiet marriage of Thursday morning was that of Miss Victoria Blust and Mr. Fred C. Robbins, a well known barber of West Main street. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Blust, live at 1121 Broadway and the bride and groom will make their home there for the present.

Chapman Family Reunion.

There will be a reunion of the Chapman family at Swinney park next Saturday, Sept. 3, and all friends and relatives of the family are invited and expected to attend. Everyone is to take a basket of eatables for a big spread and a program has been prepared of music and speeches to help everyone enjoy himself.

Nicodemus—Keyser.

Miss Naomi Keyser and Mr. Alonzo Nicodemus were married on Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Keyser, of Zanesville, by Rev. P. J. Alberbus, pastor of Christ's Lutheran church of this city. The bride has been a teacher in the city schools for some time and the bridegroom is connected with the Moody Institute at Chicago.

West—Homesyer.

Miss Ella Homesyer and Mr. Ezra West were united in marriage on August 27 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Homesyer, by Rev. Diehm. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson West. Miss Gladys West acted as flower girl at the marriage service. Miss Minnie Miller was honor maid and Miss Clara Homesyer was bridesmaid. Messrs. Frank Mueller and Melvin West were groomsmen. The bride and her attendants wore white gowns and carried flowers. A delicious wedding supper was served the guests after congratulations had been extended. The bride and groom went on a trip and will live in this city.

Dicks—Klaehn.

Emanuel Lutheran church was the scene of a beautiful wedding on Thursday, when at 2 o'clock Miss Elizabeth Klaehn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. W. Klaehn, of Aboli township, became the bride of Mr. William Dicks. Rev. William Moll performed the ceremony and the church organist played the wedding march. The bride wore an elegant imported lace robe made over silk with trimmings of silver net, a veil of tulle held with a wreath of swansonia and carried a bouquet of bride roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Edna Klaehn, of this city, and Miss Alma Klaehn, a sister of the bride, both wore pretty white gowns with their hair dressed with white ribbons. They carried bouquets of pink asters. Attending the bridegroom were his brother, Mr. Henry Dicks, and a brother of the bride, Mr. Will Klaehn. After the marriage service, which was attended by many friends, the wedding party were driven to the home of the bride's parents, on the Illinois road, where at 4 o'clock a reception was held. Later in the day a sumptuous dinner was served to the guests, who numbered between seventy-five and one hundred. The rooms were decorated with flowers and smiles and the appointments were in every way beautiful and appropriate. This morning the bride and groom started for an eastern trip to Buffalo and other places of importance and will be gone two weeks. Mr. Dicks is a farmer and will take his bride to his home to live on their return home. Both bride and groom are young people of well known families of the county and have a host of friends.

PLAITED FROCK FOR SCHOOL.

By Mrs. Jane Ford.

695
5 SIZES 2 TO 10 YEARS

Pictured is a little dress that will be pretty developed in tub or woolen goods. Mothers who wish the pattern can get it in five sizes that will fit girls between the ages of two and ten years. To copy it for a girl eight years of age requires about four and one-half yards of goods twenty-seven inches wide or four yards thirty-six inches wide.

For wear in the autumn and early winter many of the school frocks are being made from heavy cotton weaves, such as pique, rep, linen, galathea and Indian head. When wooleens are preferred, challis, French serge, veiling and cashmere wear well, and are comparatively inexpensive.

They could be elaborated with a little braiding of embroidery arranged in yoke effect on the front panel. Another very pretty way of making the dress would be to have the panel at the front of contrasting material. A plaid cashmere would be effective, if the panel was of silk in a shade that matched the predominating color of the plaid.

It would be difficult to find a model that would be easier for the home dressmaker to develop than this frock. It is in one piece—that is without a joining at the waist line, and if gone about in the right way several such dresses could be made in one day. After the goods is cut out and all notches and perforations marked, the plaits should be basted the full length of the garment and then stretched to the waist line. Next they are opened and pressed in position, after which the various pieces of the dress are basted together and the seams finished with French falls. The belt can be of the goods or of patent leather. A middie collar of Irish crochet will add much to the good appearance of the dress.

EXCELLENT IDEA.

As great a boon as women know a vacuum cleaner to be, comparatively few have learned to put it to personal use. When they buy one for their home use they reveal over the clean house they will keep with never a thought as to clean clothes and a clean scalp.

Instead of laboriously brushing your tailor suit with a whisk, stand in front of the vacuum cleaner and every particle of dust and dirt is lifted out in a few minutes. Nothing remains to do but wash off grease spots and pressing.

Shampoos are simplified by using the cleaner as a drier. Put on the blower, sit in front of it and the hair is dry in a surprisingly short time.

Your complexion as well as your temper is rendered miserable by a disordered liver. By taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets you can improve both. Sold by all dealers.

SAYS SOCIALISM IS BUT BIRTH OF FREEDOM

Eugene V. Debs Urges Faith
Before Large Crowd
at the Temple.

Declaring that socialism is but the birth of a higher civilization and the birth of true freedom, that it is the logical remedy for many evils in the existing social order and that the movement is as yet only in its infancy, Hon. Eugene V. Debs, the eloquent and forceful evangelist of that political faith, was heard by a packed house at Masonic Temple Thursday evening.

The meeting was under the auspices of the socialist party, and the speaker devoted much of his time to a discussion of what socialism really is. The fact that this political creed is so often confounded with other dogmas, he said, is because only a comparatively small number of the great army of American workmen understand the true nature and aims of the social reform. In part Mr. Debs said:

"There are those who sneeringly class socialism among the 'isms' that appear and disappear as passing fads, and pretend to dismiss it with an impatient wave of the hand. There is just enough in this great world movement to them to excite their ridicule and provoke their contempt. At least we take them at their word, for they would have us think so, and their ignorance does not rise to the level of our contempt, but entitles them to our pity."

"To the workman in particular it is important to know what socialism is and what it means. Let us endeavor to make it clear to him that he will readily grasp it and the moment he does he invariably becomes a socialist. It is my conviction that no workman can understand what socialism means without becoming and remaining a socialist. It is simply impossible for him to be anything else, and the only reason that all workmen are not socialists is because so comparatively few know what it means."

"Almost everyone has heard of socialism—and have heard of anarchy and of other things all mixed together—and without going to the trouble to learn the truth they conclude that it is a good thing to let alone. Because the capitalist editor had said so; the politician has sworn to it, and surely that ought to settle it. But it doesn't. It settles but one thing and that is that the capitalist is opposed to socialism and the editor and politician and preacher are but voices of the capitalist. There are some exceptions, of course, but not enough to affect the rule."

"Socialism is first of all a political movement of the working class, clearly defined and uncompromising, which aims at the overthrow of the prevailing capitalist system by securing control of the national government and by the exercise of the public powers, supplanting the existing class government with socialist administration—that is to say, changing a republic in name to a republic in fact. Socialism also means a coming phase of civilization, next in order to the present one, in which the collective people will own and operate the sources and means of wealth production, in which all will co-operate in producing wealth and all will enjoy all the fruit of their collective labor."

"Co-operative industry in which all shall work together in harmony as a basis of a new social order, a higher civilization, a real republic; the end of class struggles and class rule, of master and slave, of ignorance and vice, of poverty and shame, of cruelty and crime—the birth of freedom, the dawn of brotherhood, the beginning of man—that is socialism."

Mr. Debs is accompanied on his lecture tour by George D. Berger, one of the associate editors of the Appeal to Reason, the official organ of the socialist party.

INFLAMED KIDNEYS

Medical writers declare it incurable after the sixth month whether albumenous or not.

The average man prefers to think of it as "kidney trouble" and lets it go but the census shows this appalling fact—out of 15,000 deaths from kidney troubles the last census year over nine-tenths of them (13,500) took the form called "Bright's Disease" although it is quite probable that nine-tenths of these up to the last moment thought of it as and called it "kidney trouble" when as a matter of fact the only possible hope laid through a specific for Bright's Disease.

There never was one until Fulton worked out his Renal emollient (Fulton's Renal Compound).

Since then inflammation of the kidneys whether albumenous or not, or whether called "kidney trouble" or "Bright's Disease" or whether six months or six years old commonly yields. If you have had kidney trouble over six months no matter what you call it it is the only hope.

WORKING FOR NEW TOWN HALL AT NEW HAVEN

Big Home Coming and Labor Day Celebration
There Monday.

New Haven is to have a big home-coming and Labor day celebration on next Monday, which will eclipse any previous celebration ever held there, beyond all doubts. Incidentally the celebration will be a step in the campaign now being carried on there by the volunteer fireman's organization to obtain funds for a new town hall to replace the frame structure now being used.

The celebration is to be an all-day affair on the public school ground. It will consist of everything from drills by little children to speeches by prominent men of the district. Former residents of New Haven from all over the state and elsewhere are expected to participate in the joys of the day.

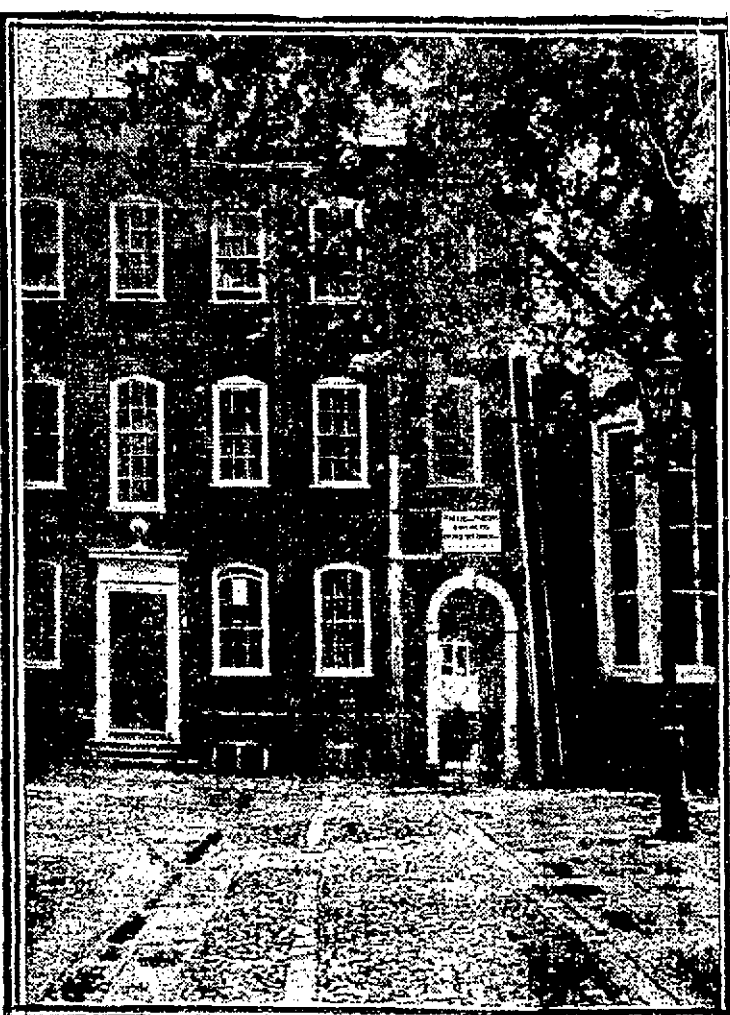

and farmers and others from a wide radius are also planning to be on hand. It will be a general frolic by young and old and at noon a big dinner is to be served and fully $150 is expected to be realized from that towards the town hall fund. After the noon day meal there will be a number of athletic events, including races and contests for young and old. Following these the speeches will begin. These are to be given by town and county officials and other representatives from the district.

Another feature which will realize a good sum for the new town building is a "most popular" girl and boy contest. Merchants of Fort Wayne and New Haven have donated over a hundred prizes which are to be awarded to those receiving the most votes in the contest. The big prize is a handsome Shetland pony, which Allen M. Hart, Zell, of that place, has donated.

The town board is comprised of R. E. Kaufman, Herman Grubb and Will Schoenefeld, and these men are backing the firemen in their arrangements for the celebration.

Don't waste your money buying plasters when you can get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment for twenty-five cents. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment is superior to any plaster for lame backs, pains in the side and chest and much cheaper. Sold by all dealers.

ANTIQUE LONDON CRUMBLING AWAY.

STAPLE INN AN HISTORIC RELIC OF OLD LONDON

London, Sept. 2.—Poor old London—by which is really meant the older London—is crumbling away more and more. The old houses of historic interest cannot withstand the climate, which slowly but assiduously eats its way into London's old walls like a disease.

London can hardly afford to lose Staple Inn, but it is in grave danger. An ugly crack was discovered recently by painters at work there, and immediately the tottering walls were shored up with stout timbers, but that has not proved sufficient, and it may now have to be taken down altogether to prevent a sudden and perhaps dangerous collapse.

According to an inscription over the door of No. 9 Staple Inn was "splendidly rebuilt in 1722," and it was saved from collapse once in 1884. The cabled and timbered frontage in Holborn, which catches the eye of every visitor, is the most picturesque bit of domestic architecture in London, and the quiet courts and beautiful hall could never be replaced. It was in Staple Inn that Dr. Johnson wrote "Rasselas."

Try Just One Tungsten Lamp For An Experiment

The new 40-watt size is no larger than the 50-watt carbon lamp you may now be using, but it is twice as brilliant and consumes one-fifth less current. You get 32 candle-power instead of 16. In other words

It Cuts Your Light Bills in Two

The tiny wire filament inside is composed of a rare metal which radiates two and a half times as much light as the ordinary carbon incandescent. Economical housewives are rapidly exchanging some of their carbon lamps for Tungstens. They save money in the end.

ONE OF FASTEST OF UNCLE SAM'S DESTROYERS.

THE U.S. TORPEDO BOAT DESTROYER PAULDING.

Bath, Me., Sept. 2.—The new torpedo boat destroyer Paulding on her standardization trials here established an average record for five trial runs over the measured Owl's Head course of 33.07 knots. The Paulding was the first oil-burning type of naval vessel to enter the water. She was preceded on her official tests, however, by the destroyer Roc, which established an average record of five speed runs of 32.41 knots over the Delaware course. The Paulding's fastest run was 33.34 knots. Special interest is manifested to see if she will exceed the speed record of the Reid, made off the Florida coast last spring, which was nearly thirty-six knots an hour. The machinery of the Paulding consists of a three-shaft, Parsons turbine equipment in one compartment, capable of developing 10,000 shaft horse power at a steam pressure of 240 pounds. The center shaft is operated by the high pressure turbine while the low pressure and cruising turbines are fitted on each of the side shafts.

HONESTY IS NOT A PARTY ISSUE HE DECLARES

Lines Should Be Forgotten in War on Faithless in Office.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 2.—In the presence of an audience of 20,000 former President Roosevelt delivered the following address last night: "There are certain matters which should never be treated as party matters; the foremost among these is the great and vital virtue of honesty. Honesty should be treated as a prime necessity to our success as a nation. The minute that a question of honesty as against dishonesty is involved, then we must all act together as Americans, without the slightest regard for party affiliations. Honesty is not a party matter, and the first man to attack a scoundrel of any party should be the honest man of that party. When in office, I always proceeded upon the theory that there would be no need of my opponents raising the cry of 'Turn the rascals out,' because I would turn them out myself just as soon as by vigilant and intelligent industry, I could discover them. As we dealt with the crooked officials, so we dealt with the crooked private citizens; with the rich swindler in New York or Chicago as with the horse-thief or homicide in Indian Territory. We never attacked a man because he was a man of one political faith or another, because he did or did not possess wealth; and we never shielded him because he was poor or rich, because he belonged to any particular church or to any particular party. But I also wish you especially to remember that we never hesitated to shield him and stand up for him once we were convinced that he was improperly attacked. Honesty's Greatest Foe. "There is no greater foe of honesty than the man who, for any reason, in any capacity, attacks or seeks to attack an honest man for a crime which he has not committed. Falsely accusing an honest man of dishonesty is an act which stands on the same level of infamy with that of the dishonest man himself; and it is no higher duty to attack the dishonest man than it is to exonerate the honest man falsely accused; and I should be ashamed to hesitate the fraction of a second longer in one case than in the other. "Remember that honesty cannot be unilateral. Good citizens should cordially distrust the man who can never see dishonesty excepting in men of the class he dislikes. The reckless agitator who invariably singles out examples of wealth as furnishing the only examples of dishonesty; and the equally unscrupulous—but no more unscrupulous—reactionary who can see dishonesty only in a blackmailing politician or a crooked labor leader; both stand on the same plane of obnoxiousness. You will never get honesty from politicians until you exact honesty from business men; on the other hand, you brand yourselves as fools or as hypocrites if you say that the corporation owner, or the employer, is always the dishonest man, and the poor man never, that it is only the wealthy man who corrupts the politician and never the politician who blackmails the corporation. Corporations That Bribe. "Any man in his senses knows that there are plenty of corporations in this country who prosper by bribing legislatures just as they prosper by swindling the public; and any man in his senses ought to know, in addition, that there are plenty of corrupt men of small means who, in legislative or other bodies, try to blackmail corporations—and try to blackmail other people as well. If they doubt this, let them look at the revelations of corruption in my own state—New York—and in yours, my hearers—here in Missouri; let them look at what has occurred in California and what has occurred in Illinois. In Illinois, for instance, one of the necessities developed by the recent investigation was the existence of a combination of legislators who blackmailed fishermen along a certain river, forcing them to pay to prevent legislation which would have interfered with their business. Crooked Either Way. "Now, scoundrels who do these kinds of things are, of course, the very men who, on the one hand, will blackmail a corporation if they get a chance, and, on the other hand, will cheerfully, if the chance occurs, sell themselves to that corporation against the interests of the public. Their corruption is no more due to the action of the corporations than the corruption of the corporations is due to their action; and evil and not good, is done by the honest but misguided man who would persuade you that either fact is true. Our duty is to war with equal sternness against the corrupt man of great wealth and the small man who makes a trade of corruption; our fight is against both the swindling corporation and the blackmailing or bribe-taking politician. Campaign Must Go On. "We cannot afford to limit a campaign against corruption to those who happen to have a certain social status. We need laws which shall put the corporation out of business, so far as concerns corrupting the servants of the public and betraying the rights of the public. I believe that the great issue now before the people is the doing away with special privilege in all its forms; doing away with the power of the big corporation to control legislation in its interests and to interfere in politics in order to secure privileges to which it is not entitled. But I regard the essential factor in this campaign as being an aroused civic conscience which will unsparingly condemn dishonesty in every form, and in every man, high or low. Misguided Reformers. "The reckless, would-be reformer, who, in speaking or writing, seeks to persuade us that we need pay heed to corruption only when it shows itself in the rich man, is doing as great a moral wrong as the rich man whose low moral standard tends to lower the morals. Standard of the whole community. The people of this country will get justice from the corporations only if they both do justice to them and rigidly exact it from them. Unless they do justice to rich men, they put a premium upon injustice and dishonesty among rich men. Let us hold them to the strictest accountability for any wrong-doing; but let us insist upon honesty in our own ranks, no less than theirs; let us war on crookedness of every kind in the man of small means as well as the man of large means. Let us judge each man by his conduct, and not by his social or financial condition. There is joy in Iowa over a bumper crop of watermelons. Columbus Junction is reaching after the banner, claiming shipments this season of 1,100 cars, averaging 1,100 melons to the car, or a total of 1,210,000 melons, worth about $200,000.

S.S.S. PERMANENTLY HEALS SORES AND ULCERS

No matter in what way an old sore or ulcer first commenced, whether from a wound, cut, or bruise, or from the ulceration of a pimple, wart or mole, or even if it came without apparent reason, the fact that it does not heal shows that bad blood is back of the place. While the circulation remains impure and polluted the nerves and tissues of the flesh around the place are constantly being fed with unhealthy matter and the blood and the place MUST heal, its cause having been removed. S.S.S. purifies. It cleanses and removes from the circulation every taint or impurity, and so enriches the blood that it feeds and nourishes the tender, the place entirely; it works on the simple principle of curing by removing the impurities which produce the trouble. Fashions for Fall are Ready

Expressing the Authoritative Modes of the Season 1910-1911

While not altogether complete in every line, yet the showing is such that the woman who is first to adopt the new modes will have a goodly selection to choose from. The new tailored suits, silk gowns and dresses, silk waists, tailored waists, separate skirts and extremely stylish coats are first to make their appearance. Shipments of new things are coming in daily and soon the various sections will be crowded with the most comprehensive showing of fashionable apparel ever placed before you.

New Fall Serge Suits at $19.75

A great big value for a small outlay and an extremely stylish model. It is made of the best quality grained serge. Coat is a fashionable length and is richly lined in serviceable satin. Touches of moire silk applied on the collar, cuffs and on pockets impart a very pretty effect. The new designed skirt is trimmed at sides with a very deep fold. The price is but 19.75

TAILORED BROADCLOTH SUITS, $23.50

One of those extremely tailored models so very becoming, and chic in effect. The material is an unusually fine broadcloth and comes in navy and black. The coat has notched collar and fancy cuffs; also lined with fine satin in color to match. The skirt has the new deep fold effect at bottom which very materially adds to the beauty. This excellent model for 23.50

BEAUTIFULLY EMBELLISHED SUITS, $25.00

To give the best collection of styles and the greatest value at this popular price has always been a special feature with us, and this season the showing will be better than ever. Of the number of stylish suits so far shown at this price this one is an excellent representative style. The material is two-toned serge in either navy, green or black. The coat has roll collar and turnback cuffs. Silk braiding applied in fancy effect on coat and skirt gives it a very stylish air. The value is wonderful for the price. 25.00

From the Dress Section

We've selected two most important models for today's mention on account of the splendid value they represent at their respective prices. Both are of the most fashionable types of the new Fall styles.

TAFFETA SILK DRESSES, $15.00

This dress is made of an extra heavy pure taffeta silk in black. It shows a lace yoke and collar; the front is very prettily ornamented with heavy silk embroidery applied in pattern effect. The sleeves are trimmed with rows of silk soutache braid. The design of the skirt is in the modified hobble style and makes a very pretty showing. It is a beauty for the price 15.00

HANDSOME BATISTE DRESSES, $21.50

The very finest of wool batiste was used in producing this very pretty one-piece dress. The waist has a V shaped yoke of all-over lace, front and back, encircling which is a pretty decoration of silk cording with touches of silk embroidery applied in scroll effect, and extending down the front to waist line. The sleeves are finished with deep cuffs of the all-over lace. A graceful fitting model 21.50

Advanced Styles in Waists

Our showing for Fall consists of a splendid range of styles and prices. We were fortunate in being able to make such an early showing.

BLACK TAFFETA SILK WAISTS, $1.98

The price sounds little doesn't it, but it is actually made of a splendid quality taffeta silk, not only that but it is prettily trimmed. The front is all-over embroidered in open work design besides having numerous tucks and folds. It is worth $2.50; special price is 1.98

LINEN TAILORED WAISTS, $2.39

The general line of linen waists are beautiful this season, so many beautiful embroidered models are among them. The one at the above price is pure linen and is trimmed in narrow tucks. Very smart in style and very serviceable. 2.39

PLAID SILK WAISTS, $5.75

Beautiful Autumn colorings blended together in pretty plaid effect and of the very best quality taffeta silk. A harmonizing shade of plain taffeta silk soutache braid is used in the decoration. The price is 5.75

WHITE MESSALINE SILK WAISTS, $5.98

Always rich and dressy, messaline silk is again brought out for some of the dressier effects. This model is unusually beautiful, being very effectively trimmed with Venice lace, val insertion and pin tucks. The value is exceptional for 5.98

ENGLISH AVIATORS COMING TO AMERICAN TOURNAMENT.

E. W. McARDIE

CLAUDE GRAYHAM WHITE

JAMES E. RADLEY

London, Sept. 2.—Aviators on this side of the water look to the approaching international aviation tournament at Belmont park, L. I., as the means which will result in the writing of another extraordinary epoch in the history of aeroplanes. Englishmen are especially interested in the plans which will be formulated by Mr. Claude Grayham White after that aviator arrives in Boston on September 1, on board the Gamble, and the showing which he may make in preliminary flights or through his appearances at aviation meetings that will precede the great contests in which the flying men of the world will be represented. Mr. White was the first of the three aviators designated by the Royal Aero Club of the United Kingdom to represent Great Britain in the contest for the Coupe Internationale d'Aviation to get away from England. Mr. James Radley, who hung up world's speed records at the recent Lanark meeting in Scotland, and Mr. E. W. McARDIE, the third representative selected by the organization mentioned, are actively preparing to follow him. They, too, hope to engage in cross-country flights and other contests before the "big show" begins down on Long Island.

Great Bustle of Preparation on Harvard Aviation Field.

Boston, Sept. 2.—The activity and bustle of an airplane factory was apparent early today on the Harvard aviation field at Atlantic where the nine days' aerophone contests of the first Harvard-Boston aero-meet will open tomorrow.

Under the long tented hangars the machinists and mechanics of Graham White and A. V. Roe, of England, the Wright brothers, Curtiss, Clifford B. Harmon, Augustus Post and many others were placing planes, attaching rudders and propellers and tightening wires and levers in preparation for the flight tomorrow. Intense interest is manifested in the showing of Wright and Curtiss types of machines.

South Bend Made a Mark That is New in Baseball

Won the Season's Series from Fort Wayne for the First Time Since the Central Was Launched.

By winning twelve of the twenty games played between the Fort Wayne and South Bend teams Eddie Wheeler and his band of bronchos conferred upon his new baseball home a distinction it has never enjoyed before as clubs here have always bested their bitter rivals on the season no matter what the relative positions of the two teams has been at the close of the season.

In having a double bill that marked the close of the season, the two teams played three games of rare baseball and Harry Corns broke the second game up with the peculiar stunt of launching two balls over the left field fence in one trip to the plate. The first was a foul and it served to make John Henry Meyers a little leery so he began to tempt the batter with curves on the outside. One of them got into the groove and it traveled over the stockade, too, but inside the foul line. For nine innings of the first and four of the second game Harry Corns pitched the best ball and but for the fact that the Bronchos crowded a pair of double smashes into one inning the affair would have lasted over. Harry Corns pitched the first of these and Carey got the second.

Fort Wayne has some lovely chances to score. Lowther Blount staged a beaten infield roller and a stolen base in the first inning, but McDermott and Young fell down in an effort to "score him." Carey hit for two bags with one down in the third and reached third but was doubled up with Justus. Garner got to the first turn in the fourth with two gone and expired and Young reached Wheeler's sack in the sixth with one out but got no further.

Harry Corns pitched the first lead run in the fifth inning of the second game with a homer and Blount followed with a double, scoring on a sacrifice and McDermott's single. In the sixth Munda, Blount and Corns hit in succession and Welch pitched a bad throw to third and this netted a pair of tallies. Young's home run in the seventh made the fifth.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Pfeffer's hard luck was right with him again. He pitched great ball and hit three times in four trips to the plate. Just before Young hit his home run he hit the top of the right field fence with a foul.

Garner drove a foul over the left field fence that is probably the record drive for the year.

Harry Corns was hit only five times in eight innings and picked three safeties out of as many times up.

Jimmy Burke was punished by the umpire in the first game for some back hitting and he has been hitting the ball in great shape.

Meyers was afraid of Young in the first inning. He got in the hole and then decided to pass him and take a chance on Garner rather than put one over for Delmer Dewaine.

Lemon made a magnificent catch of Kochler's drive in the second game.

Kochler was in hard luck. Pfeffer struck him out four times in succession and he batted once in the second game. Carey tried his speed on Bailey, when he made an attempt to pull him. He was caught a block.

Munda cut off a South Bend run in the second game when he scooped Holmes' grounder, tagged McDermott and then caught the catcher at first. In the meantime Welchman had crossed the plate but the run did not count as it was a forced play.

IN THE SHAMROCK FOLD.

South Bend wants a game with the Shamrocks after the close of the Central league season, either here or in South Bend.

The Shamrocks will leave for Tiffin, Ohio, at 5 o'clock tomorrow night, over the Nickel Plate.

Lagrange and the Shamrocks will play at League Park on Labor day. Game will be called at 3 o'clock. All boys under 15 will be admitted free.

George Hendline, who will play his first game with the locals on Labor day, has been putting up a good game for Waterloo and has been hitting the ball hard.

"Cap" Collins celebrated his birthday yesterday. He says he is 27.

Broadway fans who follow the Shamrocks, have nicknamed Captain Jack Smith General Grant.

Noted English Runner Coming

ALFRED SHRUBBS

Al Shrubbs, the great English long distance runner, is preparing himself for the coming fall season and expects to take part in several fifteen-mile races. Shrubbs is not sure of entering any of the marathon runs because he likes the fifteen-mile course and is a wonder at that distance.

TWENTY CLUBS WILL FORM THE TWO LEAGUES

Business Men Will Again Support Bowling at the Brunswick.

Entry fees have been put up by the business men of the city for twenty clubs which will form the two leagues at the Brunswick alleys this season and in the course of a few days William McKay, who will give his personal attention to the alleys during the winter months, will call meeting for the purpose of organization.

He has had nearly enough applications to fill out the list, because the players are getting restless with the cool nights and want to begin the season as early as possible. However, the schedule will not open for a few weeks, as there will in all probability be some warm weather during September.

This is two more teams, that were entered last season and it shows that with Mr. McKay at the head of the organization bowlers feel sure of good equipment, good service, and liberal treatment all along the line. He is getting his alleys ready for the winter and will be in good shape for the bowlers when they line up.

There will be two tournaments at the alleys during the winter months and as Mr. McKay is in a great measure responsible for the success of the two given last year he feels certain he can make as good a showing as when he collected about $200, which was distributed among the bowlers, in addition to the entrance money.

Work on the alleys has been going on for some time and they will be the best in the city and as good as any in the country when they are completed. Mr. McKay is responsible for the revival of bowling in Fort Wayne and is held in high regard by the knights of the pins, who have always received liberal treatment at his hands.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Howard Camnitz was driven from the box by the Bulls in the sixth but it was too late and Cincinnati won 4 to 1.

Russ Raymond was in a collision on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad and had his right arm and leg badly injured.

Jack Hendricks won with his Deaver team, but Sioux City also took a game and he did not make any gain on the leaders.

Robert Dohy, former of Richmond by Aggie Grant, was sent to yesterday after Clement had been knocked out of the box.

Stutler, playing third for Clinton in an exhibition game against the Bulls, got one hit.

Jack Kocher slipped in two of the night and a double, a double and a triple in the same trip by the Bulls from St. Paul.

Charles a second tonight by a home run, placed second in a game where he lost but on account of poor support.

Over 200 men's blue, black and simple suits that have been selling at $15 to $20 will be sold during the next three days at just half price.

PATTERSON-FLETCHER CO.

ONE SURPRISE CAME OUT OF MAJOR DRAFTS

Veasy Picked Up by the Cleveland Club at Zanesville.

There was just one surprise in the drafts made by the major leagues from the Central and in the selection of Pitcher Veasy, of the Zanesville hurling staff, a man was picked who none of the four men whose guesses were recorded in The Sentinel yesterday, thought ripe to attract the attention of the scouts. He will go to Cleveland, although the Boston Americans had in a draft for him.

Everybody was willing to concede that Willie Robertson and Ed Pfeffer would go up and some surprise was expressed that the latter was not picked before the expiration of the period for selling players, but so far as is known Louie Stier, of the Evansville team, is the only man who thought the Potter youngster would be taken from the ranks.

This is a lucky find for Manager Roy Montgomery, as he picked the hurler up from the lots and kept him on his club firm in the belief that he would develop into a major league possibility, but it was not thought he would make the big jump this year. He is the second pitcher the club manager has picked from the semi-professional ranks and sent to the big tent in one season, as Ewart "Dixie" Walker had absolutely no league experience before he joined the Zanesville team, which sold him to Washington for $2,500.

Both Robertson and Pfeffer will probably be tried out this fall as, under the national agreement, both must join the clubs that drafted them and they will finish the year with Pittsburgh and the St. Louis Americans respectively. Just what recommended Robertson is a matter of some doubt, although Wheeling is only a few miles from Pittsburgh and a scout or one of the club officials may have seen him work there.

Pfeffer was apparently the most popular of the players who were not selected by purchase, as there were three drafts in for him and he went by lot. Both Detroit and the New York Americans wanted him. Robertson was also wanted by two clubs, as the Cubs drafted him too, but he was drawn by the Pirates.

Harry Howell probably recommended Pfeffer to the Browns, as he was on the Central league circuit for several weeks and his recommendation was undoubtedly seconded by Jimmy Burke. In this youngster the Browns have the most promising proposition in the Central. He has pitched magnificent ball all year and under the careful eye of the local manager has in a great measure overcome his only weakness in learning to field his position. He has also developed into a hitter and in the last few weeks has been wallowing the ball in great shape.

Robertson relies upon his slow ball and his head. Both are excellent recommendations and there is no reason why he should not stick this time with the big show. He has been up once before, having been drafted by the Boston Americans and turned over to Little Rock, but a broken collar bone kept him down.

Clarence "Mickey" McDonald has been touted by most every Central league player and it was nearly a certainty that he would be drafted. Louis D. Smith lost some money on him by his failure to answer telegrams promptly, as he could have been sold to the Cubs for twice as much as the White Sox drafted him for. Brooklyn also sought the clever third baseman.

WHITTAKER DOWN AND OUT.

Fined and Suspended and Wants Burke to Send for Him.

"Suspended and fined. Cannot draw my salary. Am hungry. Get me away from here at once. Wire immediately."

This is a copy of a message from Lacrosse this morning which was received here by Manager Jimmy Burke. Whittaker is the lad Burke picked up in St. Louis and tried in the spring and found him. He did not send for him, however. He says if he broke club rules he will let him fight it out with the management and will not interfere.

One Block Turned Out Lot of High Class Ball Players

Jimmy Burke, now leading the Fort Wayne team in his seventeenth year in professional baseball, Patsy Tebeau, who achieved a reputation as manager of the Cleveland club, Jack O'Connor, former manager of the St. Louis Browns, Perry Werden, who has passed beyond the stage of active baseball life and who is drawing a salary to coach for the Minneapolis club, Scappo Bill Joyce, one time manager of the New York Nationals and who was in the big show for a great many years, and Patsy Flaherty, now an umpire in the Southern Michigan league, are all the output of the radius contained in one square block in St. Louis.

This is vouched for by Samuel F. McClellan, a St. Louis business man who is stopping at the Wayne hotel, and who knows what he knows about these players because he has observed and kept careful tab on every one of them from the knickerbocker period until the curtain was rung down on all of them except the Fort Wayne manager.

"No wonder he can play baseball," said Mr. McClellan in speaking of Burke. "Why those little devils used to get up before breakfast and play in a handball court in the block and many of the time that two or three of them tried home black eyes as a result of early morning scrums that came out of the game."

"Talk about a scrappy bunch. You ought to have seen those fellows when they were kids. Not a mother's son of them paid any more attention to school than if there was not a book in the world and they would go home after a day of hockey and back up for the larpings they knew were coming, and think that was the best of the bargain when each got a whalloing to punish him for a day of baseball."

"I don't know who was the best scrapper of the five but I think one of them could take care of himself in a rough-and-tumble mix-up and they certainly used to have some fine old battles. However, I think it did them good as they all made good money in baseball, more than any of them could have learned to make by paying attention to their school books."

Of the whole output of that block, which it is safe to say was solidly Democratic, Jimmy Burke is the only one still in the game as an active player. He built up a good constitution in the handball court and on the vacant lots of St. Louis, has taken care of himself and is still fit for several years in the game. Every one of the six players that block yielded up for baseball was scrappy. Fought hard and conscientiously while they played ball and Burke is still doing the same thing.

O'Connor is not playing the game and is making his living out of what he knows about baseball. Both Patsy Tebeau and Joyce are in the saloon business in St. Louis and have been out of baseball for a number of years.

TIDBITS OF SPORTING NEWS

There are some lucky men in this country and King Cole, the Chicago pitcher is one of them. Just because his name happened to be what it is and not Smith or Johnson he was presented with a "Cole 30" automobile by the manufacturers.

Doty and Bowen, who went to Kalamazoo from this league have pitched games in the Southern Michigan league and both won by the shut-out route.

Pittsburgh rooters have managed to establish themselves as the most stubborn on earth. Monday some eighteen thousand of them showed up for the game. Fred Clarke because his club lost to New York. The demonstration came to head in the ninth inning when Clarke went to bat. The fans called loudly for "Pittsburgh Pirates" pinch hitter. Clarke's reply to their demonstration against him was a striking double.

Frederick Cykels Alberts insists that he is only twenty-eight years old in spite of the fact that writers say he is thirty.

A HANDSOME ROOF AT MODERATE COST

FOR LITTLE HOUSES

FOR IMPROVING STRUCTURES

CORTRIGHT METAL SHINGLES

Cortright Metal Shingles make the roof that makes the house.

Not only in protective value is it the best of all roofs, but it is the most artistic form of covering, the handsomest top-piece a house can have, a crowning glory that gives the house an appearance of solidity and worth that at once enhances its value.

Unlike wood shingles—Cortright Metal Shingles can not leak, rot, split, curl, burn or fall off. Unlike stone slate—it does not require heavy timber support, or renewal, or leak repairs. Unlike tar, gravel and like roofs, extremes of heat or cold have no effect on it, nor will it be necessary to relay it. Cortright Metal Shingles outlast the house. Many of the oldest Cortright roofs are now serving on the second house.

Cortright Metal Shingles are made in four designs—available to all forms of architecture, any of them subject to coloring to match your schemes of painting. They are manufactured by the Cortright-Metal Roofing Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

SAGG OR ZIMRI—WHICH?

Domestic Difficulty in the Cabin Passed Up by Brudder Ramshack.

"I WANTS to ax yo' advice, Brudder Ramshack," began an obfuscated looking colored citizen. "Wants yo' to tell me, in yo' humble opinion, how to git out'n de meele I's in. I's so mixed to my mind dat—aw, dess lemme spashiate. Muh wife—brudder, betty lady, as yo' knows—wants her rights, an'—"

"Dey all does, sah," interrupted old Brudder Ramshack, who was no little of a philosopher. "Lady folks is all dat uh-way—wants deir rights."

"But dis'n gits 'em—rotches out an' snatches 'em away fum me. Dat's her method of puhsoot—wants her rights an' gits 'em! I done woke up in de middle o' de night an' found her goin' th'oo mah pants pockets—sissy-d' cents, good money, in dem pants, too, sah!"

"Why didn't yo' hop up an' lam her, Brudder Sagg?"

"Lam who? Yo' isn't talkin' to me, sah! Dat lady weigh nigh three hundred pounds. Nussah, de meaneest I done was to set up in muh verticle couch an' ax her: 'Uh looky yuh, lady! Don't yo' think yo' actin' sawtuh similar? What kind uh way am dat for a 'spectable mard' ooman to be puh-seedin'?' An' she told me to shet muh mouf, uh-kase she was dess 'Jorin' her rights like de white ladies does. Well, sah, dat made me ashy—did for a fact."

"Twuz de last feather dat broke de Campbellite's back. An' I hollered as I jumped for de do' fetch-taked if I would sleep in de same edifice wid no sich-uh pusson—I'd sooner sleep in de stable, I says. An' out de do' I went an' slammed it habd."

"Ah-hah! Dat was de way to do!"

"Was it? I shivered dat it was stavin' min' outside—rain an' thunder an' lightning—plenty! An' as de lady didn't call me back I hatter make muh bluff good. So I boosted old Zimri, de boss, out'n de stable, an' sot about dola' de best I could for muhself. An' den muh wife looked out an' seed de boss boomed up dar in de stavin' an' yelled at me what did I mean, o'nery scoundrel dat I was, by treatin' po' old Zimri dat uh-way? 'Lady,' I hollered back with dignity, 'It's eeder me or Zimri. Once an' for de last time choose uh-twixt yo' husband an' dat boss!' An' she dess th'owed de do' wide open an' yelled, 'Uh-come on in yuh, Zimri!' An' I axes yo', sah, as a man o' de world an' a brudder in de lodge, what'm I to do 'bout it? Which uh-way am I to turn in de 'mergency?"

"Go ahead an' git a divorce fum de lady; dat's what yo' gatter do. An'—bless goodness—yo' got plenty o' avocation for it, too, Brudder Sagg."

"Yassah, I sp'icion I has; but, to tell de troof, Brudder Ramshack, I kaint sca'cely bring muhself to do it. Yo' see, I's had her so long dat she seems like one o' de fambly!"—Tom P. Morgan in Puck.

BANISH THOSE GRAY HAIRS!

Kill the Dandruff Germs—Stop Hair Falling

Thousands of mothers are looking younger.—Their gray hairs are gone. The natural color has come back, and with it a new growth of soft, glossy, luxuriant hair. Why should you look old before your time, when you can look years younger by using

WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR REMEDY

Dandruff Cured

Three applications removed all the dandruff and left my scalp clean, white and smooth. (Wm. Croak, Rochester, N. Y.)

It is Positively Guaranteed to Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color

If either "so-called" Restorers have failed, don't give up hope, but give WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR REMEDY a trial. You run no risk. If it is not exactly as represented, your money will be refunded.

PROFIT BY OTHERS' EXPERIENCE

Gray Hair Restored

My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff, which fell upon my clothes and kept me continually brushing it off. While on a visit to Rochester I heard of your Sage and Sulphur for the hair. I got a bottle and used it. A few applications relieved the itching, my hair stopped falling out and gradually came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, glossy and pliable. Several of my friends want to use it, and I want to know what you will charge me for six bottles of it.

MISS E. A. ROSS, Sharon, Mercer Co., Pa.

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is fairly covered and keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

From San Sebastian to Barcelona, Spain is deluged to a man over the present anti-clerical crisis. This does not, however, prevent them from attending the bull fights. A correspondent writing from Spain comments on the enormous power of the church in a country where the common folk believe in the priest's power over the sun and moon and all as absolutely as they believe in the existence of their favorite matadors.

Methodical Fishing. Jim McDermitt, the lawyer, has a great fund of dandy dialect stories. The one he most delights to tell follows:

"A traveling salesman in a southern town came to a small pond. An old negro was loitering contentedly in the sun with fishing rod in hand. The salesman paused and watched the fishing. After watching for half an hour without seeing the least sign of a bite he asked how the fish were biting. The fisher looked surprised.

"Why, boss," he exclaimed, "dere ain't no fish in dis yere pond. Dere never was a fish in it."

"Well, what do you fish for?" the salesman wanted to know.

Fort Wayne's Greatest Newspaper
The Fort Wayne Daily Sentinel

Is the only evening newspaper published in Fort Wayne that gives its readers this great volume of good reading matter.

In addition to the Exclusive ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT, giving the news of the entire world over our own wires running right into our own building, and all the local happenings of our home city and surrounding territory, there will be

of Special Articles

Secured by THE SENTINEL at an enormous expense from the highest paid and best writers of the country. Articles that no other Fort Wayne newspaper can secure or give to its readers. Look over this partial list of these articles. There is something for every member of the household written in attractive style.

The Great American Playwright
Belt

The story of an automobile ride along the north shore of Long Island Sound with glimpses of the beautiful home of the writers of the plays that have won high honors and big royalties. This page is handsomely illustrated with views of the homes of Leo Ditrichstein, the late Clyde Fitch, Mrs. Rida Johnson Young, Edward Milton Royal and Charles Kline. How these dramatists do their work in bringing out the great plays.

The Transgression

By Horace Hazeltine. Crommelin, a lawyer, in a small village, relying on his excellent reputation, decided to burglarize his rich neighbor's house, driven to the act by the demands of his daughter that he provide for her better than his circumstances warranted and by pressing debts. He enters the house and has an encounter in the dark. Makes his escape. His neighbors call on him. He received financial aid from another source. A good story of how a man who had always been honorable was saved from disgrace.

The Story of Pontiac Ragapple

E. H. Dollar's $8,000 cow and how she became the nucleus of a herd that has made her owner famous the world over. E. H. Dollar was a farmer boy on a Lawrence county farm who became tired of the grind of the dairy farm and the sight of his father and all his neighbors growing poorer year after year. He went to New York to work in offices. Later called home by the death of his father he was compelled to give up city life and run the farm. He introduced modern business methods into it. Bought Pontiac Ragapple, the rejected one of a high priced herd, for $600, later sold her for $8,000. Four and five thousand dollar cows are now the common thing with Mr. Dollar.

Attractive Pillows for the School Girl's Room

Is the title of the Misses' page this week. New ones needed every Autumn by the student miss and her big brother—the college man. How to make them. Social Amenities for the School Girl. Odds and Ends of interest for the girl who sews is another department on this page. How to make handkerchiefs, slipper lasts, petticoat lace, chiffon parasols, oriental bags, new jabots and vestees, are all talked about.

Sally Prue Develops a Taste
for Art

Elsie Williamson gives another installment in the interesting career of this young girl who left home to make her way in a great city and who so far has come through every temptation sweet and clean. This week she visits the Metropolitan Museum of Art and meets the man whose presence has such a strong influence on her at the time she saw him in Mougin's. Sally here is beset by the greatest temptation in her eventful career. Read how splendidly she came through it.

Skibby Throws a Scare Into the Spitzes

William Chester Esterbrook this week tells us how our old friend Skibby discovered that Sport Reme, another of Judge Dugane's proteges, had lost his job in the grocery store and also at the five cent theater, for Sport was a singer. Skibby starts out to get him a job. Finds that an old acquaintance, a prima donna, is to sing in the city. He wants to see her. The secretary turns him down in the hall of the big hotel. Skibby throws a scare into madam's spitz dogs that the maid is taking out for an airing. Madam rushes out to the rescue. Skibby introduces himself and gains an interview with her for Sport. Madam takes Sport along in her private car to place him in a musical school to educate him for a great singer. Skibby always gets there, even when the judge is not around to help him.

The Stone of Success

By Mary E. Mitchell. A beautiful illustrated page story of the Ruby, the stone of success. Great monarchs and warriors have had valuable stones to which they attributed their successes. In this story is told the wonderful old bit of Greek-folk-lore, "The Crane's Gratitude." A Greek mother was being forced to sell her boy into slavery to pay the debt of his dead father. Kindness to a wounded crane brought to them a valuable stone that cleared away all difficulties.

Jim's Experiment

A story for every boy and girl. Jim Bradstreet, whose mother is dead, and who lived alone with his father, an author whose whole time was centered in his work, receives an invitation to go to Panama with a cousin, an engineer. His father refuses his consent. Jim runs away. At his first stop he meets another boy in the depot. Tells him what he is doing. The other boy advises him to go home and get acquainted with his father. Jim takes his advice. The good fellowship that grew between Jim and his dad. They become chums. Jim thrillingly rescues the manuscript of his father's greatest book from a fire.

News and Views of Farmers

This week there is a number of good ideas for practical farmers for all those interested in agricultural pursuits. This page is not for farmers alone but for the city man as well if he is interested in farm life.

The Widow Wise

This week Paul West writes and W. H. Loomis draws the beautiful widow at the sunny bathing beach with eight suitors in her train. She loves them all so cannot decide. She swims a race in which the one who overtakes her is to be the favored one. Not one can swim with her. Mike Cassidy rescues her and is proposed to by the widow. Mike says, no thank you, Mrs. Cassidy and seven kids might object. Illustrations in two colors.

Uncle Mun

Is the star attraction on the two pages of colored comics. A man falls from the church steeple. Mun calls out the fire department, catches the falling man on a stream from the hose and saves him.

LULU writes some LOONY LYRICS, or rather is too much astonished to write the Lyric when the Too-Lo-Loo is captured with a corkscrew.

JACK and JILL this week meet Barber Bill in Fairyland. Steal old Mother Goose's Goose to escape, captured by that ancient dame.

PUBLIC IS INVITED TO HEAR R. B. WATROUS Civic Beautification Expert Saturday Evening at Commercial Club.

The widest possible invitation is extended to the public of Fort Wayne to attend the illustrated lecture by Richard B. Watrous at the Commercial Club rooms Saturday evening, and it is particularly desired that all who are interested in the project of river beautification shall hear this lecture. Mr. Watrous is the secretary of the American Civic Association, with headquarters at Washington, and he comes to Fort Wayne under the auspices of the Civic Improvement Association, to speak along lines identical with those accomplished here, which it is hoped can be brought to realization in Fort Wayne. Stereopticon views illustrating what has been done in this way by other cities will be used to illustrate Mr. Watrous' talk. The association has mailed many illustrated postcards advertising the lecture, but it is desired to have the presence of all who are interested in city beautification, whether they have received one of the cards or not.

Trade early in the day tomorrow, the last day of our great sale.

MACHINERY ON THE WAY.

New Shoe Factory Equipment Has Been Shipped to Fort Wayne.

Lasts, patterns and machinery for the new Cushion Heel Shoe company, which is to open soon in the Bash building at Harrison and Columbia streets, has been shipped from the east and is now en route to Fort Wayne. It should reach the city within a few days.

Buy a fine up-to-the-minute blue, black or staple suit at our store tomorrow at just half price. Tomorrow is the last day of our great sale.

PATTERSON-FLETCHER CO.

Mrs. Howard Kram, wife of a fireman at the central engine house, submitted to her third operation within a year at the Lutheran hospital yesterday. Her condition is regarded as serious.

We will give the most remarkable bargains tomorrow even given by this store. Don't miss them.

PATTERSON-FLETCHER CO.

The Knights and Ladies of Security will hold a regular meeting above the Star theater this evening at 8 o'clock. An election of officers will be held then.

The greatest sale ever known in Fort Wayne will close tomorrow night. You know the sale.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.
Chicago, Ill., Sept. 2.—An advancing tendency in wheat today was checked by large sales from a leading warehouse concern. Commission buying was general, incentive to purchase being found in higher cash quotations and in light receipts here. The foreign strength was attributed to sudden French demand for Austrian cargoes. The market here opened 3/4 to 1/2 higher, with December at 1.03 1/2 to 1.03 3/4, a rise of 1/4 to 1/2 to 3/4. The fall forward was at the top level of the initial range, was firm with wheat. December opened unchanged at 57 1/2 to 57 3/4 to 57 1/2 to 57 3/4 and stood at 57 1/2.
Oats—More in good demand with offerings only fair. December started at a shade to 1/4 higher, advanced 3/4 to 3/4 and held close to these figures.
Provisions were irregular within a narrow compass. Trade was light. First sales were 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, with October at 22.75 for pork, 12.07 1/2 for lard and 11.87 1/2 for ribs.
